TEACHERS RECOMMENDED

Voted by the School Board---Position of Assistant Supervisor of Janitors Abolished

The school board at its regular meeting, last night, voted to increase the salaries of the elementary grade teachers, referring the matter to the finance committee as to the amount of the increase. Other important action on the part of the board included the abolition of the position of assistant supervisor of janitors to take effect Saturday of this week. This position has been held by Peter Bagley. The matter of executive sessions was taken up again and the board voted to adhere to its original action as the charter says that all meetings of the board shall be public. School matrons removed ask reinstatement.

Excused School Rules
The committee on evening schools held a meeting prior to the meeting of the full board and submitted a recommendation which was adopted to the effect that whenever the average attendance in an evening school shall fall below 15, one or more teachers shall be excused, the teacher having had the briefest experience to be the first

NO TRACE OF SCARLET FEVER

Children Suspected of Having Had the Disease Are Said to be in the Pink of Condition

A child died at 125 Gershom avenue a few days ago and scarlet fever was said to be responsible for its death. After having scarlet fever for a few days the child developed cerebro-spinal meningitis and died. The mother of the child told the doctor who attended it when he asked if the child had been exposed, that there were children down stairs who had been sick and whose skin had shown eruptions. The doctor who examined the children down stairs said they did not have scarlet fever. The matter was reported to Mayor O'Donnell with the request that the condition as reported be investigated and he appointed Dr. Thomas B. Smith to do the investigating. The name of the family referred to as living "down

MISS GOULD MARRIED

TARRYTOWN-ON-THE-HUDSON, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Miss Helen Miller Gould was married at 12.30 p. m. today at Lynnhurst, her country estate, to Finley Johnson Shepard, an American railroad man.

The bride went to an altar half-hidden by roses, trailing asparagus ferns and great banks of palms, on the arm of her brother, George J. Gould, who gave her in marriage. An orchestra, screened by masses of flowers in the music room, played the Lohengrin wedding march, while the Rev. Daniel Russell, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Helen and Dorothy Gould, nieces of Miss Gould, stood with her. Garbed in pale pink satin, they acted as flower girls and were her only attendants. Louis J. Shepard, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Bride Wore Diamond Pendant
A rope of exquisite pearls, said to have once adorned the neck of the Imperial Josephine, empress of France, a pear-shaped diamond pendant, the bridegroom's gift, were the only jewelry worn by the bride. The pearls were a bequest from Miss Gould's mother.

The wedding gown was of duchess ivory satin with a sweeping train three and a half yards long, trimmed with duchess and rose point lace and with seed pearls and diamonds. The lace and veil were the gifts of the Duchess De Talleyrand, formerly Miss Anna Gould, the bride's sister. The veil was held with a spray of orange blossoms, and swept in flowing lines to the end of the long train.

Orange blossoms also caught up the lace at the sides of the skirt. The bride's slippers corresponded with the gown and were trimmed with small tassels of orange blossoms.

Each of the little flower girls carried a basket of pink roses which they placed on the altar. Their dresses were of white silk, their slippers white and mounted with golden butterfly buckles. The bride handed to Dorothy her bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley when the bridegroom placed the ring upon her finger.

Less Than 100 Guests
Less than 100 persons were bidden to the ceremony. They included close relatives of the bride and of the bridegroom and friends of long standing. Among them were members of the bride's immediate family, Mr. and Mrs. George Gould, Kingston Gould, Mrs. Jay Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., George Jay Gould, Jr., the Misses Edith and Gloria Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gould and their sons, Edwin and Frank, William and Banks De Talleyrand and their son, the little Prince De Sagan, Howard Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jay Gould.

Of the bridegroom's family, Mr. and Mrs. Burton H. Wright, Mrs. D. W. Cutter, Miss Cutter.

Mr. Shepard, who was ill and was unable to be present.

Among the friends present were: Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Snow, Miss Helen Gould Snow, Gordon and Howard Snow, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Rush, Mr. and Mrs. Northrup, Miss Ida Northrup, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Perrell, Miss Lilla Perrell, Rex Perrell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Northrup.

Lynnhurst, the great country house of the bride, was redolent with the scent of flowers. In every room there were banks of the muscled high banks of flowers covered with cut lilies of the valley and edged with smilax. Mingling their fragrance with the lilies were parish was in progress. Everybody unanimously declares that last night's affair was "one great time." Anyone who attended the party would be loath to tell you this morning just what happened there; he would only have a hazy recollection of music and dancing, coon jokes galore, of a lively two step and a dreamy waltz, of an active, happy crowd, and of countless good things to eat. If you happened to question a "feminine anyone" as to what kind of a time she had, she would ignore your question and would proceed to enumerate the dainties that were sold at the novelty table. In addition to pretty fancy work, the novelty table had for sale a wonderfully nondescript collection that included "strictly fresh" eggs, a meerschaum pipe, a pair of "hippy" tan shoes, a ruby ring and many other things of an equally varied nature. Mrs. Kelly, who had charge of this table, is to be congratulated on her original scheme of catering to everyone's taste, regardless of age or sex.

ST. COLUMBA'S PARISH REUNION GREAT SUCCESS

Long before the formal opening of the reunion at 8 o'clock, the presiding was "standing room only." The door and balconies were thronged with an enthusiastic crowd, and from the old man with long gray whiskers to the diminutive maiden with the big red bow atop her golden curls, there was no one in the hall who did not enjoy himself or perhaps more particularly herself.

The "Honey Boy" Minstrels gave an entertainment from 5 to 8 o'clock. William H. Way was musical director and Miss Anna Murphy was the pianist. The gentlemen in color who furnished most of the amusement were Charles Sadler, Edward Handley, Joseph Champagne and Cleveland H. Nobles. Edward Murphy was the interlocutor.

The program offered by the minstrels was an unusually excellent and varied one, and the different singers were great applause. One of the best numbers was the song by John Willey, tenor, "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold." Cleveland Nobles was one of the most active of the endmen and fairly bubbled over with good spirits as he sang that rollicking rattle piece, "On the Mississippi." Charles Sadler, another "colored person," also made a distinctive hit with the "Ten-

TURKS SURRENDER

DECIDE TO GIVE UP ADRIANOPLE TO THE BULGARIANS

Grand Council Decided in Favor of Accepting Peace Proposals of the European Powers

VIENNA, Austria, Jan. 22.—Turkey has decided to surrender Adrianople to the Bulgarians, according to a semi-official telegram from Constantinople through an Austrian source.

POWERS ADVISED TURKEY TO CONSENT TO CESSION OF ADRIANOPLE
CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 22.—The grand council of the Ottoman empire decided today in favor of accepting the proposals put forward by the European powers for the purpose of bringing about the conclusion of peace.

The note handed to the ports on Jan. 17 by the European ambassadors at Constantinople called the attention of the Ottoman government to "the grave responsibility it would assume if by resistance to their counsels it should prevent the re-establishment of peace, and it would have only itself to blame if the prolongation of the war has as a consequence put in question the fate of the capital and perhaps to extend hostilities to the Atlantic provinces of the empire."

The document continued that in that case the Turkish government could not count on the success of the effects of the powers to preserve it from the dangers against which they had already warned it and which they once more warned it to avoid.

The powers then called the attention of the Ottoman government to the fact that after the conclusion of peace it would have need of the moral and material support of the powers to repair the evils of the war, to consolidate its position at Constantinople and to develop its vast Asiatic territories. The note pointed out that the Turkish government could count on the efficacy of the benevolent support of the powers only so long as it deferred to their counsel inspired by the general interests of Europe and Turkey.

The powers then advised Turkey to consent to the cession of Adrianople

HEAVY LOSSES BY TURKS IN NAVAL BATTLE WITH GREEKS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 22.—The Turkish losses in the naval battle with the Greek fleet off the Dardanelles on Jan. 18 totalled four officers and 25 men killed while 164 others were wounded.

In the course of the fight a Greek shell exploded inside one of the turrets of the battleship Torgut Reis, killing and wounding every Turk in it and disabling both of the 11 inch guns.

PRISONS OF HUNGARIAN CITY OVERCROWDED—TRIAL BY JURY SUSPENDED

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The prisons of the Hungarian city of Segedin are over-crowded with Serbian agitators and the law courts there are overwhelmed with work, says a news agency despatch from Vienna.

Trial by jury has been suspended by the government in several places in Hungary owing to the fact that the majority of the jurors are Serbians and invariably acquit their fellow countrymen.

OTHER EXAMINATION POSTPONED

Because of some hitch in the posting of notices the civil service examination for the rank of sergeant has been postponed and Mr. Karbaum said today that he could not tell when the examination would be held. The examination was to have been held today. He could not explain why the notices had not been posted in time to give proper notice to all concerned. Next time, however, the notices will be posted in due season.

DOINGS IN TEWKSBURY

There is great activity in the Tewksbury board of trade and the members are doing their very best to push the matter of a trolley express through the village. A committee was appointed at the last meeting to confer with the officials of the Bay State Railway Co. as to the possibility of such a project through the village, and their hopes are that the matter will be brought to a successful issue.

Secretary Foster of the board is now in communication with the officials of Amherst college for speakers to address the members on agriculture at the next meeting of the board which will be held on Feb. 6, at which time important questions will be brought before the meeting.

The Noreena Girls of Tewksbury Centre held a meeting at the home of Miss Fannie Munroe and enjoyed a quitting party. The product of the meeting, a fine fancy quilt, will be donated to the O'Leary home in this city. Previous to the social hour, the election of officers was held for the ensuing year with the following results: Mrs. E. W. Cameron, president; Miss Edith Stevens, vice president; Miss Winifred Gray, treasurer; Miss Ruth Tinkler, secretary; Miss Dorothy Pierce, corresponding secretary. Refreshments were served and a nice afternoon was spent.

The members of the Ladies' Aid society will hold their regular meeting after dinner at the home of Mrs. Billings. The business was transacted and a social hour was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carley had as their recent guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson and two sons of Worcester. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Trull have returned from a two weeks' trip to Albany, N. Y.

Miner's, Lincoln, Thursday eve. MAKES GOOD SHOWING

City Solicitor's Department Will Return a Michigan Bank Roll to the General Treasurer—H. H. Hazzard!

The city solicitor's office, which comes under the mayor's department, will return $244.25 to the general treasury out of the law department's appropriation for 1912. This, of course, is a very good showing, and if such a return to the treasury held good in all of the departments it would relieve the rather embarrassing condition existing at the present time. Conditions are more or less responsible for the expenses incurred by the law department. There are a great many things that go to make up the total expense. The number of cases in which the city is involved, witness fees, etc., have a heavy bearing on the expense of the department, and a goodly number of cases were tried by the city solicitor in 1912. The total appropriation for the year was $3758.

THE BILLERICA BOARD OF TRADE

THE BILLERICA TOWN HALL IN WHICH MEETING WAS HELD.

Offers Prize of $1000 in Corn Growing Contest—Efforts to Boom the Town

The regular meeting of the Billerica board of trade was held in the town hall last night and was attended by a very large gathering. Rev. Charles H. Williams, president, opened the meeting and made a short address of welcome, after which the business of the evening was taken up.

A motion was made and carried to present a part of an article at the next town meeting dealing with the carrying and the using of firearms by persons under the age of eighteen years.

An act, embodied in the resolves of the legislature of 1912, restricting the erection of undesirable buildings was discussed and it was voted to bring the matter before the next town meeting.

A committee was appointed to see if better car service cannot be secured for the town of Billerica. Many instances were brought up in which the board thought the service could be improved.

Corn Growing Contest

The next topic for discussion was the proposition of Mr. Gustave Thommen, regarding a "corn show" on which a committee was appointed some time ago. The Billerica board of trade and the Billerica grange are to unite and hold a corn contest and show. A prize of $1000 and several other prizes are to be offered to the parties raising the best crops of corn on an acre of land.

It is expected that a record crop of corn will be grown in the town of Billerica and if this is so it will mean a larger demand for Billerica corn.

The committee representing the Billerica board of trade is composed of the following: Chairman, Gustave Thommen, Harnden Spiller, Herbert Bosmer, Stephen Parker and Edward F. Dickinson. Those representing the grange are: Charles Wright, Frank Fitzgerald, Coburn S. Smith, Charles Moore, Mrs. H. Bosmer, Mrs. Edward Dickinson and Mrs. Charles Wright.

QUIT CALOMEL!

THOUSANDS ARE TURNING FROM THIS DANGEROUS DRUG

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets For the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after-effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-oil colored tablet.

The results of 11 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They act on the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED WITH THE FRATERNITIES RAISED PASTOR'S PAY CITY DARK TWO HOURS

Old Middlesex Chapter
Held Annual Meeting

The old Middlesex chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of the registrar, Warren W. Fox, Wynant's Exchange, and transacted considerable business. The meeting was presided over by President James H. Fitch and the election of officers was held with the following results: President, Rev. Allan Conant; Vice President, Herbert C. Clark; Treasurer, W. W. Fox; Historian, Frank W. Hall; Secretary, P. H. H. Parker; Treasurer, Charles R. Livingston; M. J. Chapman, Rev. Wilson Winters; Auditor, George W. Miller.

The news of the death of Patriot George W. Cushing was received and a committee was appointed to draw up suitable resolutions. The president appointed Paddy Edward W. Clark and Frederick W. Halsey to serve. The meeting adjourned after remarks by the president-elect and the retiring officers.

HOME RULE IS ASSURED

English Strike Leader at
U. I. L. Meeting

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Home rule for Ireland is an accomplished fact. Ninety per cent of the liberal party in England favor home rule for Ireland," said Harry Phillips, former deputy mayor of West Ham, London, and one of the leaders in the recent English dock strike, at a meeting of the United Irish League, held in the American House Irish League, held in the American House of Commons, to celebrate the passage of the new home rule bill through the house of commons.

Mr. Phillips expressed himself strongly in favor of home rule for Ireland, and stated that Ireland would soon have its own parliament. He said the lower branch of parliament will pass it in spite of their rejection. "The lords may throw it out, but we will throw it back in again," he asserted. "There is a great revolution over there, silent, strong and steady. It is not a revolution of bloodshed. The great institutions upon which England is built are steadily passing away. Ireland is to have her freedom, and the Welsh church will be abolished. Ninety per cent of the labor party in England favor home rule for Ireland."

"I believe the spirit against home rule in Belfast is fostered by the mill owners to avert the attention of the workmen there from the starvation wages they are receiving. The liberal party in the house of commons cannot be led to the home rule bill, they were due to the insurance bill."

HIT BY AUTO

C. G. Nordberg Injured in Worcester and Chumbeur Arthur Waugh Is Arrested

WORCESTER, Jan. 22.—Carl G. Nordberg, aged 52, of Brattle street, was seriously injured last night, when he was struck by an auto driven by Arthur Waugh, aged 23, chauffeur for Rufus S. Dixon, a local oil and paint dealer.

Nordberg, according to the report filed at the police station by Dr. Richard J. Shanahan, who attended the injured man, was crossing Front street, near the corner of Church street, when the auto knocked him down. Officers O'Brien and Conlin arrested Waugh on a charge of drunkenness.

Nordberg was rushed to the City hospital, where it was reported that his injuries include a dislocation of the bones in the right foot, two severe lacerations of the scalp, contusions on the right hip and probable internal injuries.

Young Hebrews Are Justly Opposed to Immigration Bill Now Before Congress

The members of the Y. M. H. A. at a recent meeting adopted resolutions protesting the passage of the Burnett Dillingham Immigration bill, which excludes from the United States all immigrants who cannot pass the literary test.

Several Society Meetings Held Last Night

The principal business to be transacted at the regular meeting of S. H. Hines lodge, Knights of Pythias, last night, was the installation of officers. This was accomplished by D. G. C. Clifford E. Jones of Arcadia lodge of West Somerville, accompanied by P. C. Albert S. Shaw as G. V. C. John Applehaus as G. P. Herbert H. White as G. K. R. S. Walter H. Mott as G. M. A. Roy Hamblin as G. M. A. members of his suite.

The following officers were inducted for the ensuing term: C. G. Frank C. J. Prescott, V. C. Charles F. Harrington; P. Archie D. Bump; M. W. John H. Parkey; K. R. S. Robert J. Fullerton; M. R. Lira E. Mansur; M. E. Alva P. Joy; M. A. George O. Ticecomb; L. G. Alfred C. Dugdale, and O. G. Charles H. Jordan.

P. C. Joy and P. C. Mansur are the oldest officers of this branch of the organization, the former having been installed last night for the 21st time, and the latter for the 25th time. Remarks were made last night by all the newly elected officers and grand officers. P. C. S. H. Hines, J. J. and Usher of Lowell, C. C. Briley of Wamsutt, P. C. Charles Jones and Knight Porter of Chevalier-Middlesex lodge were present as visitors and added their mite to the event of the evening.

P. C. S. Joy, Mansur, Clark and Kitteredge, V. C. Harrington and P. C. Sutherland also spoke.

Brother Langell, who was elected as C. C. of the lodge, resigned his office, as he is about to leave the city. A vote wishing him Godspeed was passed by the lodge.

Lunch was served to all present by the entertainment committee at the close of the meeting.

Lowell Aerie

The Lowell Aerie of Eagles held a class initiation last night in its hall. A large gathering of the members was present. Refreshments and an entertainment followed the business meeting, and this was greatly enjoyed by all.

Betsey Ross Circle

Members of Betsey Ross circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., met in regular session last night and transacted a number of routine matters of importance. As usual a hospitable supper preceded the business meeting, and this was under the direction of Sister Sarah M. Kinney, assisted by Sisters Richardson and Washburn.

Loyal Victoria Lodge

The Loyal Victoria lodge of Odd Fellows held its regular meeting in Graceland hall last night and transacted considerable routine business. A program of music and literature followed the business session, and all of the numbers were highly pleasing and applauded.

Garfield Colony

The members of Garfield colony, United Order of Pythias, met last night with a large attendance. The installation of Thomas J. Tighe as lieutenant governor and Henry H. Nickles as sergeant-at-arms was accomplished by Supreme Governor Martin.

Supreme Governor Martin

Supreme Governor Martin of Boston is expected to be present at the next meeting of the organization which is to be a union meeting.

Court Samuel de Champlain

The regular meeting of Court Samuel de Champlain, No. 19, Foresters of America, took place last evening in Elks' hall on Middle street, and Chief Ranger Albert E. Sabourin was the presiding officer, and there were many out of town guests. Much routine business was gone through during the course of the meeting.

FINES NOT SUFFICIENT

Surgeon General Advocates Jail Sentences for Those Who Break the Opium Laws

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—That the courts rarely mete out the proper punishment to offenders of the opium laws who are brought to trial was the declaration made by Edwin G. Graves, surgeon of the port of Boston, at the monthly dinner of the Pilgrim Club, held last evening at the American House yesterday. "Most American," he declared, "ordinary offenders are fined. This is the worst thing that could happen for if sent to prison they might be broken of the habit. When they pay a fine they go out and get more opium."

Grace Church Gives Him
$200 More

A largely attended meeting of the Grace Universalist church society was held last evening, and the members listened to interesting annual reports, which were followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Forrest Martin, and the report of Treasurer Woodward showed that pew rentals were the largest by over $200 than at any time in 10 years, and that Sunday collections had averaged double this of the past 10 years, indicating a substantially increased membership of church and Sunday school.

club showed contributions of $430 for the year, and the energetic Tidmille club submitted a statement to the effect that it had paid coal bills amounting to $223 for the year.

During the year the church has received from bequests the sum of $450 and the permanent debt has been reduced $215. Costs relating to the interior of the church, including decorating and correcting the church acoustics have been made, and of a total expense of $250 for this work, about one-third has been paid. The church is much better off financially than it has been for years.

As an appreciation of the pastor's work, Rev. C. R. Skinner, it was voted to increase his salary $200 a year.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

TO LEARN STEEL BUSINESS

Deacon Phillippe, Formerly Pirate Star Pitcher, Goes to Work on "Night Shift" in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—Charles (Deacon) Phillippe has gone to work in the "Tarantum steel works. He is one of the "night shift," carries a bucket and eats out of it during the half-hour allowed for supper.

The Deacon, at 41, has decided to learn the business "from the ground up." He was out of a job since the United States league blew up last summer. It is less than 10 years since Phillippe and Sam Leever plotted the Pirates into a pennant and Phillippe alone took three games of the World series which the Boston team won.

Woman Burned to Death

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Anna Emrock was burned to death and six persons were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the plant of the T. G. Richardson Manufacturing company on the West Side yesterday. Several hundred girls were at work in the building and a dozen or more escaped by jumping from windows.

Cambridge Electric Light Employees Strike

MEN WANTED 8 HOUR DAY AND REVISION OF WAGE SCALE

Strikers Returned on Condition That They be Given 8 Hours and That Question of Wages to be Arbitrated

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—A walk-out of engineers, firemen, steamfitters and others employed by the Cambridge Electric Light company left the streets of that city in darkness until 7:15 last night.

The men wanted an eight-hour day and a revision of the wage scale. After Mayor J. Edward Barry had conferred with President J. G. Bennett and General Manager W. E. Holmes, these demands were agreed to in part. The men came back on condition that they will be given an eight-hour day, and the question of wages is to be arbitrated at a meeting to be held next Tuesday.

The town of Belmont, which secures electricity for street lighting from the Cambridge Electric Light company, was not affected, inasmuch as the bright moonlight rendered any other illumination entirely unnecessary, according to the town fathers.

The firemen, oilers, steamfitters and engineers employed at the plant of the company, at the corner of Western avenue and Blackstone street, have been dissatisfied for some time.

A short time ago Agent Joseph Nash conferred with Mr. Holmes and laid the demands of the men before him. The general manager stated that he would look into the matter.

Yesterday afternoon, while the directors of the company were holding a meeting, it was learned that the men were also holding a meeting at the union headquarters in Boston. Investigation disclosed that fires had been drawn and steam allowed to run down, and that the majority of the men had left the plant.

This was at 4:30, but some of the older men not affiliated with the union, managed to keep enough steam to furnish power for the shops and houses. It was impossible to light the streets, however, and when darkness came on not a light glimmered in Cambridge thoroughfares.

As soon as Mayor Barry learned what had taken place, he went to the plant with City Electrician Timothy C. O'Hearn and conferred with President Bennett and Mr. Holmes. The officials of the company felt that they should have been given a chance to investigate the demands before a strike was called.

Mayor Barry stated that the city must have lights, and that without them there was danger. He said that the fire alarm service would also be crippled.

Mr. Holmes then got in touch with the men, who agreed to come back upon being assured that they would be given an eight-hour day, and that the question of wages would be arbitrated.

TO ACCEPT "MRS." DEGREE

9 Wellesley Seniors Are Brides-to-be

WELLESLEY, Jan. 22.—Nine senior girls in Wellesley college who have only a few more months to study for their Bachelor of Arts degrees are already candidates for degrees of "Mrs." It was announced here last night. Two of them will be married soon after being graduated next June; the others will wed next year.

Miss Rachel F. Burbank of East Mil-lis announced her engagement to Dr. René Benson of New York. They will be married next June. Miss Burbank told her classmates, and travel abroad before settling in New York. Miss Carol S. Prentice, who entered Wellesley from New York, announced her engagement to Otis Williams, an Amherst graduate, now in business in New York.

Miss Edna Swope of Seymour, Ind., followed with the announcement of her engagement to Frederick Shepard, Jr., of Boston, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology last June. By a dinner dance here Miss Dorothy McDowell, who entered Wellesley from New Rochelle, N. Y., announced her engagement to Donald Greiner of Washington, D. C. Mr. Greiner was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology last June and is now an instructor there. He plans to go into business in Washington after his marriage to Miss McDowell.

Another engagement announced was that of Miss Helen E. Richardson of Brighton and Norman Southworth of Boston, a graduate of Harvard in 1911. Miss Edith Montgomery of Rochester, N. H., announced her engagement to George Simmons, a graduate of Williams last June and now in business in Baltimore, Md.

Miss Alice Merrill's engagement to George W. Lewis, Harvard '10, was followed by announcement of that of Miss Edith Besse to Edwin P. Holmes, who also was graduated from Harvard in 1910. Both are residents of Boston.

The last engagement made public was that of Miss Pauline Miller and Arthur D. Seeler of Meriden, Conn. Miss Miller entered college from Meriden.

PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

For Children of the Public and Parochial Schools to be Held by Education Committee of Board of Trade

The essay writing contest which was held so successfully last year under the auspices of the board of trade is to be repeated this year and will be governed by the same rules as before. The subject of the essays will be as usual, a matter concerning law, and the prizes will be medals. The committee to have charge of this contest will be the same as last year and will be composed of Rev. Charles T. Billings, chairman; Dr. Hugh Walker, Dr. Joseph Lamoureux and George S. Mather. The presentation of the prizes in the different schools will be held on April 1, Lowell day, when the board of trade members visit the schools, and give interesting talks on Lowell.

ASKS PAY FOR IDLENESS

Man Out of Work Without Cause

At a meeting of the board of health held yesterday afternoon an applicant appeared before the board seeking pay for idleness due to a doctor's alleged mistake in diagnosing a case in his family as that of scarlet fever. He said he had lost five days pay on account of the error. The board gave out the information that the department posted a scarlet fever card on

TOO OLD TO BE SPANKED

Court Holds That Girl in Hobble is Immune

ELGIN, Ill., Jan. 22.—"A girl who wears a hobble skirt, does her hair up in a knot and answers to the title of 'Miss' is too old to be spanked." This was the decision of Police Magistrate George R. Thompson yesterday morning when Charles Junghaenel was arraigned in his court upon the charges of his daughter that she had been whipped.

Miss Elizabeth Junghaenel, 19 years old, appeared to prosecute her parent. The court imposed a fine of $1, and Junghaenel confessed that he had acted hastily when he found his daughter spending the night at a neighbor's instead of coming home.

BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS.

IF CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, HEAD-ACHY, STOMACH SOUR, TAKE A CASCARET

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

MARRYING A RICH WOMAN

Finley J. Shepard is one of the most fortunate men in the country. He was married today to Helen Gould, one of the richest women in the United States; not rich in money, but in friends. As it happens, the bride is also the custodian of a great fortune, but one does not think of it belonging to her, since she has used it very largely for the benefit of others. She has never been a rich woman as the world makes use of that term. Her work has been, among the everyday people of the land, the soldiers, the sailors, the railroad men, the working girls, the very poor of the great cities. Her own life has been modest and simple; her dress and deportment in keeping with this manner of living; and her charity not the showing of giving that seeks public applause, but the joyous bestowal of people in quiet and practical ways.

And note the wonderful array of her wedding gifts: A gold rose bowl from the men of the Atlantic squadron; a silver service from the enlisted men of the forts in New York harbor; a memorial gift from the railroad Y. M. C. A. men of the country; and many others of the same sort. There have been New York women married within the past three years whose gifts in gold and rare gems, in silver services and imported tapestries, were greater than the ransom of a king. But they were the gifts of the rich alone, and the poor of the land read of them with envy. But there is no enmity shown to Helen Gould. She has won the respect of all Americans, the personal love of thousands of people. She has proven that wealth in the hands of a good woman is like the fabled gift of the fairies of old; it can banish poverty, loneliness, illiteracy, unhappiness.

And who but Helen Gould would have found expression for her happiness in so novel a manner as her dinner to be given to a thousand homeless people in the old Bowers mission to-night? Surely, here is a rare woman; one who, sought many times by the younger sons of European nobility, finally married a self-made American man.

THE COAL PROBLEM

The local coal dealers are quoted as seeing no chance to reduce prices at the present time. In spite of their facilities for buying directly from one of the great companies, which maintains a terminal station in this city, the supply remains unfulfilled and the public continues to pay an extra toll of $1 per ton. Explanations differ according to the retailer with whom the purchaser talks, so that it is not surprising if the public has a very vague comprehension of what the real situation may be. Financial America, which is well posted on trade matters, had this to say in a recent issue:

A result of the suspension and of the severe weather of last spring, which exhausted the surplus stocks of coal, was that the supply was not equal to the demand in the summer and fall. The large companies continued to sell at their regular prices, the "independents" received premiums of from 50 cents to $1.50 a ton. A premium was still paid for "independent" coal when the year closed, but prices now are higher in normal than they had been in October and November. The close of navigation on the Great Lakes was followed by a concentration of shipments upon the eastern markets, and the outlook now is that the supply of coal will be ample to meet the needs of consumers east and west this winter.

According to this statement, the "trust" magnates have not raised coal $1 a ton, although the independents have made a 50 cent increase; but even the latter have come down to nearly normal prices as the supply has increased. Of course financial America may not be aware of the peculiar situation prevailing here and in a few other cities. But, on the other hand, it is certain that many of the explanations offered for local conditions cannot still prevail, since if they did the entire country would be caught in the grasp of high prices. And it is apparent that retail prices in the east show a considerable latitude at the present time. The power controlling the weather appears to have been on the side of the poor man, at any rate.

REFORMING THE CUSTOMS

Under an act of congress passed last August, a reorganization of the customs service has begun that will prove more far-reaching than any that has taken place since 1793. The leaders of both parties have finally agreed that the time has come to put the service upon a business rather than a political basis, and the sincerity of this action may be appreciated when it is understood that no less than 150 officers, now the gift of the president, and heretofore considered political rewards, will be abolished.

Supports will now entirely disappear from the official language of the treasury department. The customs districts of a state—there are 13 in Maine alone—will be made one district, with only one collector in general charge. Naval officers who have long been assigned to duty in the districts will now be withdrawn, and a deputy and her appointed for the same duties. Other changes will occur later when the reports of the special commissions on appraisement, and the methods employed at the port of New York, are made.

It is not surprising that barnacles have grown upon the customs service in the last century. Ports that did a great shipping business a hundred years ago have in many cases lost all their commerce; towns that had a ship-handling industry can show only the last remnant of the ruined stays. The political appointee alone has remained to show the glory of departed days; and the government has continued to pay his "keep" for other services rendered than those provided by the customs service.

Although last year was considered a very poor year in railroad building, 2937 miles of track were laid in 41 states. In any other country this would be considered remarkable construction. North Dakota and Texas were the leaders, a fact due to the rapid development of those states now going on. One need not fear that the country has stopped growing so long as railroad construction is going on virtually in every state.

Some idea of what might have resulted from reciprocity between the United States and Canada is to be gained from the enormous increase in Canadian imports of American cement since the 50 per cent. reduction in the Canadian tariff went into effect. In four months nearly $60,000 barrels were imported as against $28,000 for a similar period under the old tariff. There is a tremendous market for American goods in Canada with a proper readjustment of tariff schedules.

The naval battle between the Turkish and Greek fleets was the result of the lust of Turkish women that their forts ought to fire upon the Turkish warships in order to drive them from cover. The Turks fought, but at a perfectly safe distance.

The state of California last year produced 90 million barrels of oil, or one for every resident of the United States. That sounds good, but those who claimed their barrels also paid for them.

After two years' business, the postal savings banks of the country are able to show deposits of $30,000,000, with 300,000 depositors. The public appears to have full confidence in the government.

What! The Massachusetts legislature to investigate the election of Brother Weeks to the United States senate? What Can Rep. Gordon of Boston possibly mean?

The Boston burglars who dressed like twins probably figured that at least one would escape arrest.

Mail Pair seems to have struck a false note with the Kaiser.

A REAR-END COLLISION

Doctor and Engineer Killed—Several Hurt

BROWNVILLE JUNCTION, Me., Jan. 22.—A rear-end collision between trains on the Canadian Pacific railroad at Onawa station last night caused the death of two men and injuries to several others.

One of the men killed was Dr. Daniel W. Hayes of Brownville, the railroad physician and surgeon, who was returning from attendance on a patient in a backwoods town.

The other victim was Fred Crandall, also of this town, who was engineer of one of the trains. The names of the injured are not known.

The train on which Dr. Hayes was returning home is believed to have been a passenger train from Greenville Junction.

The meagre message received here said the accident was a rear-end collision, and from this fact railroad employees expressed the opinion that the passenger train probably ran into a freight. The officials of the railroad would give no information last night, and it could not be learned on what train Engineer Crandall was working. Working trains were sent to Onawa station last night.

Onawa is a small hamlet in the little village of Brownville, about half way between Greenville and Brownville Junctions.

Dr. Hayes is survived by a wife and five children, and two brothers, one of whom is Judge C. W. Hayes of Foxcroft. Crandall leaves a wife and three children.

COAL BARGE SINKS

Crew of Massachusetts Taken Off Before She Goes Down Near Southwest ledge

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 22.—The barge Massachusetts, in tow of the tug Sarah McWilliams and Charles Henry McWilliams, sank off this port at midnight. The barge was one of a tow of five.

The Massachusetts lies in 33 feet of water near Southwest ledge. She was carrying 525 tons of coal consigned to Providence dealers. The crew was taken off before the boat went down.

AT THE CLUB

Bill strolled into the club to find his old Joe seated at a small table and absentmindedly arranging a pack of playing cards in a game of solitaire.

"Lo, Bill," greeted a Joe, looking up at the sound of the sliding door.

"Hello, country," replied the new comer, laying his coat and hat upon the billiard table, "been a fine day?"

"Great! Sit down and I'll show you how to play pitch," said Joe, reaching out his foot and kicking a chair into position opposite his own for the accommodation of the other.

"You show me how, why my dear fellow, I played that game before you knew one card from another. Don't let me out!"

Joe shuffled the pack carefully to mix up the cards which had been sorted by the solitaire process, and then dealt six pastboards to each. "What's your bid?" he asked.

"Three, four, is it?" I thought so, you will have to go some to beat this hand. The two played on in silence for a time. Then the following came:

"Did it ever occur to you what a lot of trouble those past-board cards have caused, Joe?" inquired Bill.

Joe looked up suspiciously for he recognized his companion's mood. "Are you getting ready to spring one of your little schemes on me again?" he asked.

"Oh, no, nothing like that," was the hasty reply, "just something to talk about."

Bill remained silent for a moment, gazing out of the window, unseeing the early before him. Then he coughed, and said: "That just the same, when you stop to think of it a whole lot of trouble have been wrecked and a whole lot of hearts broken just through a pack of cards like that one."

Joe sighed and threw the hand which he had been examining. "Go ahead, you big preacher, relieve my mind. I knew it was coming," he added.

"I have nothing to say," said Bill, "but you needn't get around just because I ask you a question." Five minutes intermission for meditation. Then: "But, Joe, I've known more than one fellow who lost all that he had in life just on account of one first little social game, and he was a promising chap, too. Had plenty of money, a good job and a fine little home. He started in a little game of whist just for fun and some food suggested that they make a little stake of a penny or two just to add interest to the game. He refused at first but when the others laughed at him, he agreed. Then one of them showed him how to play poker so that he would understand their conversation when they began speaking about four of a kind, full house and other such terms. Then when he learned the game they raised the stake to a dime. This continued until he himself was the one to suggest another raise after he had been a trifle lucky. Then one day he lost a few dollars and they decided to get square with the game. He did not get square, though, and before very long had to pawn his watch to pay some of his poker debts. There is no use drawing out the story though, only to say that today the fellow hangs around a typical bum. Gambles whenever he can get a dollar or so together. His wife goes out working in private families when she can get anything to do and their little girl has been sent to a home. He started with a social game such as we were playing."

"That may all be true," said Joe, doubtfully, "but the fellows he was playing with were sharper, of course, and he merely emulated the sports. A man couldn't be led so easily."

"Yes, but he was not the only weak minded person in the world. And they do not all start that way. Only yesterday I read where Judge Enright fined some young fellows for shooting craps in the alleys and on sidewalks. There are thousands of such cases and they are not rare right here in Lowell. There are hundreds of men, too, who tell their wives they were at the club when in reality they spent their nights in poker joints. The clubs abound with sociability, but some of the members get the poker habit, which is much worse than the jolly, cheerful fellowship of club life."

Children in the schools of New Orleans are to be systematically studied by experts with respect to their capacity for education, according to information received at the United States bureau of education. Under the terms of a cooperative agreement between the local school board and Newcomb College of Tulane university, children who are for any reason markedly "exceptional" will be selected by the school authorities and referred for individual examination to the psychological laboratory at Newcomb college, provided the parents give their consent.

A detailed plan of procedure has been devised, in which parent, teacher, sociologist, physician, and psychologist cooperate in examining the children; and a significant feature is the instruction to be given to a number of city teachers and normal-school students in school hygiene and in the psychology of abnormal children by professors in Tulane university.

The second teachers will take the first step in the examination. Following a systematic course of all the children, they will select from all the classes those who appear to be backward, or vicious, or in any way "exceptional." After the consent of the parent is obtained, the parent, with the child, will apply to the superintendent of public schools for his approval, and then the chief medical inspector of the public schools for physical examination. The experts at the University laboratory will then study the children individually.

Through mental tests, such as the "form board" and the Binet tests through knowledge of the child's family history and mode of life, obtained by a faithful social worker in close touch with the home, and through any other available source of information, they will seek to classify the child according to his mental needs and ability.

After having the pupil under direct observation for some time, the psychologists will be able to determine whether he should attend the regular school, receive special training, or be provided for in some other way. The whole purpose is to study the apparently exceptional child for his own welfare and that of the school and community.

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Vanni Marcoux, the baritone of the Boston Opera company, yesterday received word from his attorney, Henri Roberts in Paris, that he had been granted a divorce from his second wife, formerly Miss Elsie Maletrey of Paris, whom he had married four years ago. The divorce is understood, has been granted upon the grounds of incompatibility, and beyond the payment of the expenses in the proceedings, amounting to nearly 150,000 francs, or about $25,000, no alimony has been granted to the former wife.

Marriage Gets Divorce

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Mrs. Emily Morton, 15, of 15 Rockaway street, Lynn, who on Monday afternoon was seriously injured in a battle with an armed black man who attempted to abduct her at the point of a revolver, is much improved, and last night received great praise for the pluck she displayed in fending her assailant.

When the man, whom the police believe they know, pressed the revolver to her child's head and warned her he would shoot if Mrs. Morton did not accompany him, she rushed for the sleeping babe where he lay in a crib and after grappling with the intruder succeeded in snatching up the child and eluding it to her breast.

Quickly grabbing up a butcher knife which lay on a table in the kitchen, she threatened to stab the intruder who, still holding the revolver at her face, attempted to make his escape out.

THREE COURT CASES

Concrete Sentenced to Year in Jail and Fined $300 in Nashua Vice Crusade—Two Other Cases Disposed Of MANCHESTER, N. H., Jan. 22.—In the superior court yesterday three of the Nashua "vice crusade" cases were disposed of, the most important being that of Charles H. Conkrite, indicted on two charges of pandering and keeping a disorderly house. He was sentenced to serve one year in jail, and was fined $300 and costs committed.

J. Harold Eaton, also of Nashua, indicted on three charges of gambling, is recovering from a serious illness and the county attorney recommended that indictments be postponed. The court confirmed the suggestion.

Doris Clayton of Nashua, was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs, and was given a six months' suspended sentence.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

Rep. Williams of North Billerica
Brings Important Bill Before the Legislature

Rep. Charles H. Williams has introduced a bill in the legislature providing for the establishment of an independent agricultural school in Middlesex county and the Middlesex North Agricultural society, at its February meeting, will take action on the bill. It provides for a $75,000 school to be established by the county and to be maintained thereafter at an annual expense not to exceed $25,000, the state standing half of that amount. The school shall be free to all residents of the county over 14 years of age and under 25. Persons over 25 may take special courses.

The full text of the bill is as follows: Section 1. At the next state election there shall be placed upon the official ballot for the county of Middlesex, the following question: "Shall the county of Middlesex establish an independent agricultural school?" If a majority of the voters voting thereon vote in the affirmative, then, the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall appoint four persons, one for the term of one year, one for the term of two years, one for the term of three years and one for the term of four years, and thereafter he shall appoint annually one person for the term of four years, residents of the county, who together with the county commissioners for the county shall be known as the trustees of the independent agricultural school of the county of Middlesex. Said trustees shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for their necessary expenses, the same to be charged and paid on account of maintenance, as hereinafter provided.

Section 2. The said trustees are hereby authorized to determine the location of the said school, subject to the approval of the board of education, and to expend the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars to be provided by the county of Middlesex, for the purchase of real estate and the erection or alteration of buildings therefor. Thereafter the county of Middlesex shall each year upon the recommendation of the said trustees raise by taxation a sum not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars for the maintenance of said school, and the sum so raised shall be paid to the said trustees by the treasurer of the county upon their requisition. In order to provide for the county's expense in establishing and equipping the agricultural school hereinafter provided, the county commissioners of the county of Middlesex are hereby authorized to issue bonds of the county from time to time as needed to the amount of seventy-five thousand dollars, to mature in whole or in part in not less than twenty years, with interest at a rate not exceeding four percent, per annum, and the sum so raised shall be paid to the said trustees by the treasurer of the county upon their requisition. The county commissioners may by vote provide for the payment of said debt by such proportionate or other annual payments as will extinguish the same at maturity, in such manner that the aggregate amount of principal and interest payable in any given year shall not, together, be less than the aggregate amount of principal and interest payable in any subsequent year; and thereafter such annual amount shall, without further vote, be assessed under the provisions of law relating to the assessment of county taxes.

Section 3. In order to aid in the maintenance of said school the treasurer of the commonwealth shall, so long as said school is approved by the board of education, pay, as provided in section four of this act and upon the recommendation of said board, to the county of Middlesex from money in the treasury one-half of the cost of main-training said school, the yearly payments not to exceed the sum of twelve thousand five hundred dollars.

Section 4. The school authorized by this act shall be maintained as an approved school, subject to the provisions of chapter 47 of the acts of the year 1911, not inconsistent herewith, and the county of Middlesex shall be reimbursed for expenditures incurred in the maintenance of the school in the same manner and to the same extent as cities and towns are reimbursed under the provisions of the said chapter.

Section 5. The said school shall be free for attendance to all residents of said county over 14 and under 25 years of age. Persons over 25 years of age who desire to pursue any course of training offered by the school may make application for admission to that course. The board of education, whose decision shall be final, may approve or disapprove of any such application. Any resident over 14 and under 25 years of age, of any city or town in Massachusetts which does not maintain a board of education approved by the board of education and offering the type of training which he desires, may make application for admission to the said school. The board of education, whose decision shall be final, may approve or disapprove such application.

In making its decision the board of education shall take into consideration the opportunities for free agricultural training in the community in which the applicant resides, the financial status of the community, the age, sex, preparation, aptitude and previous record of the applicant, and all other relevant circumstances.

Section 6. The city or town in which the person resides, whose application for admission to the said school has been approved as herein provided, shall pay such tuition fee as may be fixed by the board of education, and the commonwealth shall reimburse such city or town, upon the recommendation of the board of education, to the extent of one-half the sum paid by the city or town as a tuition fee. If any city or town neglects or refuses to pay for such tuition it shall be liable therefor in an action of contract brought by the trustees of the school. The said trustees are hereby charged with the duty and responsibility of collecting all moneys due the school for tuition fees, for the work of pupils, from the sale of products or from any other source other than local taxation and of paying over such moneys to the treasurer of the county of Middlesex.

Section 7. The provisions of chapter 439 of the acts of the year 1908 for half rate fare upon street railways shall apply to pupils of the said school.

Section 8. So much of this act as applies to the referendum shall take effect upon its passage, the residue upon its acceptance by the voters of the county as provided in section one of this act.

LETTER FROM THE SOUTH

Young Man From Silina, Ala., Writes to Lowell Girl—Found Name on Roll of Cloth

They may say that the southern cotton manufacturers can manufacture goods cheaper than in the north, but nevertheless some of Lowell's products are being disposed of in many of the southern states, and a good proof of this is that word has been received from Silina, Ala., to the effect that a local girl's name was found on one of the bolts of cloth which was made in a dry goods store of the latter place found the name and address on the bolt and wrote the following letter which was received here yesterday:

"Having seen your name on a piece of broad in a bolt of cloth, I thought I could write and find out if there is any girl by that name."

TWO AUTOS BRUSHED

Serious Collision Averted
by Young Driver

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Fowler McCormick, son of Harold McCormick and grandson of John D. Rockefeller, was injured yesterday when he averted his automobile in Lincoln park to avoid a collision with the car of former United States Senator Lorimer.

Mr. Lorimer was a passenger in his own car and called to his chauffeur when an accident seemed unavoidable, as the two cars were meeting on a curve. Young McCormick, who was at the wheel of his own car perceived the danger a moment sooner and turned his machine toward the curb. The two machines brushed and both Mr. McCormick and Mr. Lorimer jumped to the street. Mr. Lorimer escaped injury but Mr. McCormick was slightly scratched and bruised.

THE TARIFF ON COTTON

Cotton Men Before Ways and Means Com.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The democratic plan for cutting the tariff on cotton manufactures which would be recommended to the house early in the extra session of congress, brought representatives of the cotton industry to the ways and means committee hearings today. Democratic leaders hold that cotton bears a relation to the world's economic program more important than that of wool, silk and flax combined and that the American people pay annually about $200,000,000 more for their cotton goods by reason of the present tariff rates.

They contend that no actual loss in revenue will result from the proposed legislation which is identical with the cotton bills the democrats sought to enact in 1911 and 1912 and that the revision would reduce the annual cost of cotton clothing by more than $50,000,000. The estimated duties under the proposed revised schedule would aggregate $10,550,500 against $13,673,801 in 1910 and $12,350,932 in 1911, the latest available statistics.

Democratic members of the committee believe that the rates provided in the tentative schedule, the bill of last year and the year before, are more fairly competitive than have been proposed in any other tariff measure and that they would offer a substantial economy in the cost of living. The republican minority deny these contentions.

Cotton affects some of the most powerful industrial interests concerned in the tariff and most of the big organizations, national associations and some of the smaller bodies were ready to testify.

REPARATION IS DENIED

An Important Decision
Against Woolshippers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Hundreds of thousands of dollars in reparation on shipments of wool and mohair from Pacific coast and Rocky mountain points to the east were denied to shippers today by the interstate commerce commission.

On complaint of the National Wool Growers' association and the railroad committee of Oregon, the commission held on March 21, 1912, that the freight rates were unreasonable and directed that they be reduced. Later in the spring and early summer of 1912, the railroad companies put into effect the lower rates suggested by the commission.

In its decision the committee reserved the question of granting reparation, requested by shippers on all shipments during the period from two years prior to the filing of the complaint until the date the reduced rates became effective. The commission held today that reparation would be granted only for shipments under the old rates after the date of the commission's finding.

Longley, Henderson, Martin and Southland Quality in First Division in Palm Beach Tournament

PALEM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 22.—H. H. McElwain of Oswestrie, who holds the Florida state golf championship, won the low score prize in the qualification round of the golf tournament begun here yesterday. His card of 75 showed few mistakes and was the only one below 80 in a field of 36 players.

Habbel of Englewood was second with 81 and C. Longley of Waukegan, a member of the Rhode Island state team, was third with 82. Commander R. W. Henderson, U. S. N. from New Haven, with 84; L. F. Martin, Oakley, with 85; and A. F. Southland, Essex county, 88, were other New England golfers to land in the championship division.

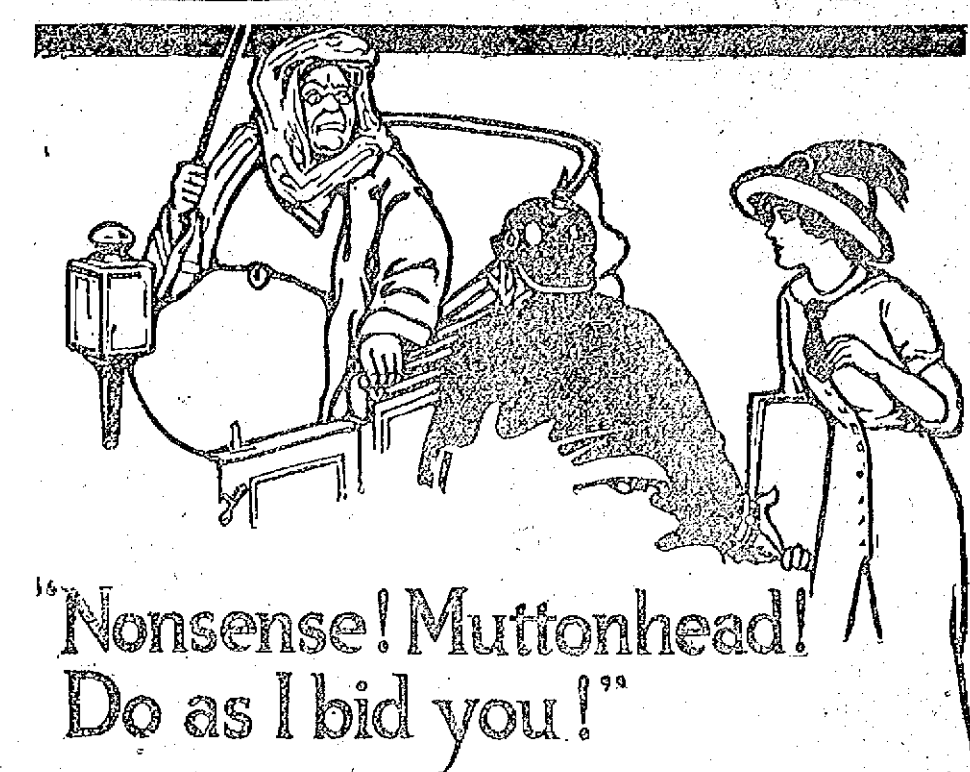

R. J. Whitman of Myopia was just outside of the 100 and H. C. Hawkins of Brookline will be found in the second flight.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House
The appearance of John Drew in the brilliant comedy he has had for many seasons, "The Perplexed Husband," by Alfred Sutra, will be at the Opera House tomorrow night, Jan. 23. The English actor, whose last success in this country was with "The Walls of Jericho," scored a tremendous success with his latest play in London and New York. It is in New York where Mr. Drew used it at the Empire theatre. The press and Mr. Drew's following alike said that as actually seen on the stage, it was remarkably amusing. It is in fact, though it gives him fine comedy material, there are several scenes of genuine feeling which make demands on his skill as a dramatic artist. The play is faultlessly cast. With Mr.

Adrienne submits to the compulsory chaperonage of the peppery, domineering old Frau Generalin, but she continues to attract adventures as a rose attracts butterflies. She not only wins her degree; she also wins that redoubtable old lady.

This story by Wanda Petrunkevitch, "Chaperoning Adrienne," certainly deserves its place in the February

RAINY'S PICTURES

In speaking of the Rainey African Hunt Pictures to be seen at the Opera House all next week, afternoon and evening, Lieut. C. H. Twiss, who has served through many Indian campaigns on the plains of the west and who has had many experiences with wild animals in the same American desert, says that Rainey's pictures were the finest reproduction of wild life that he had ever seen. On a smaller scale I have seen such scenes as those shown last night when the animals were depicted drinking from the water hole on the American desert, but even the best could not begin to compare with the film shown by the Rainey Company.

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK

An illustration of the difficulties with which all singers have to contend in the struggle for supremacy may be found in the trials of Mme. Schumann-Heink, whose concert engagements this year under the management of the Wolfson Musical Bureau surpassed in number any she has ever undertaken in a single season. It was when Mme. Schumann-Heink was but sixteen years of age that she received one of her most disappointing setbacks.

The ambitious young singer had presented herself for trial at the Vienna Opera House. She had been recommended by Maria Witt, who had obtained money for her traveling expenses through the kindness of Field-Marshal Rodetz, and with her sixty pounds tucked away in her little handbag and shockingly dressed she presented herself humbly to the conductor of the great opera house. When she had concluded her song she looked expectantly for a favorable decision.

The Playhouse

Howard Sidney, the clever character man of The Drama Players, possesses the happy faculty of applying his efforts to about any sort of a character in a manner that is always satisfying. In this week's presentation of the four act comedy drama, "A Bachelor's Bachelor," he is seen as the aged and antique literary, and he makes of the character one that is as true to life as the scene itself. He will give you a good laugh, together with the other members of the company, have made themselves truly popular with the theatregoers of Lowell, more so than any former stock company, simply by doing things better and on a broader scale than their predecessors. See them this week. Two performances daily.

There are other and delightfully funny acts on the bill, among them being "The Minstrel Man," in which Harry Brooks effectively plays the title role. This is one of the best character parts seen at this theatre in a long time. Other things on the bill are: Moore & St. Clair, in singing; Smith & Campbell, sidewalk coney; and Kennerly, xylophonist, and Kennerly, hoop roller. Good seats may be obtained for all performances. The box office telephone is numbered 28.

Merrimack Square Theatre

What is proving to be one of the most interesting and satisfactory programs given at the Merrimack Square theatre this season is being presented there this week. The bill is headed by Edwin Keough & Co., presenting a vaudeville classic called "Ambition."

WILL LAY WIRES UNDERGROUND

Municipal Council Favors Installation of Conduits in Prescott and Merrimack Streets

The hearing on the matter of objection to the reappointment of Victor J. Hebeles did not come before the municipal council yesterday, much to the disappointment of those crowded out of the room. Mr. Hebeles was sick and unable to appear. The hearing will be held later.

Meeting Called to Order

It was 2:55 o'clock when Mayor O'Donnell called the meeting to order and all members were then present.

The first matter to come before the council was the petition for a permit to lay and maintain underground conduits in Prescott and Merrimack streets, the conduits and manholes to be located by the city engineer.

The order accompanying the petition was read by the clerk. The order provides that the engineer opening the street shall put in track in shape suitable to the commission of streets and highways.

Mr. Mahoney appeared for the petitioners and said that his company wanted permission to allow the Postal Telegraph company to enter, with cables, its new office in the new Sun building.

John H. Harrington of The Sun said he was very much interested in the petition and said it came somewhat as a surprise to him.

Mr. Harrington said that when the foundation of The Sun building was laid, he thought all the necessary openings for wires were made, but such it seems, was not the case. Mr. Harrington said he was now using temporary wires and that he is opposed to aerial wires.

"I want that Postal Telegraph company to get into The Sun building as soon as possible," said Mr. Harrington, "and I suppose you know why. When the assessors visit Merrimack square they will not pass The Sun building without noticing it and it is necessary to have somebody to assist in defraying the expenses. I would like to avoid digging up Prescott street, but there is no way of supplying the wires without installing aerial wires and we don't want them. I cannot get my tenants to put in the wires and I assure you that the necessity is a pressing one. I hope you gentlemen will see your way clear to grant the petition." On motion of Ald. Brown the order was taken from the table and Mr. Brown moved its adoption. Ald. Harrington asked the guarantee for indemnity extended from one to three years. The city clerk was instructed to make the order read "three years" instead of "one year" and the order was then adopted.

That Furniture Bill

The mayor read a communication from Adams & Co., relative to furniture purchased several months ago by Ald. Brown for his offices in the department of streets and highways. The bill amounted to $102.50, and Adams & Co. want their money. A hearing in the matter was set for Tuesday next.

Civil Service Tenure

James H. Carmichael, local representative of the civil service commission, had a petition before the council asking that the city trustees be placed upon the civil service list. The matter was referred to the commissioner of streets and highways.

The mayor read part of a communication from Amos Jean, remonstrating against the reappointment of Victor J. Hebeles. Mr. Jean, after reading one page, suggested that it would probably be just as well not to read the communication in full until the matter was taken up in full, as it contained charges. On motion of Alderman Brown the communication was laid on the table until such a time as a hearing will be held. The mayor stated that he had received information to the effect that Mr. Hebeles was sick and unable to appear today. At 3:20 on motion of Alderman Brown the board proceeded to ballot for a member of the board of health to succeed John A. Osgood. The ballot did not result in a choice.

Barrett and Brown voted for Osgood, Cummings and Donnelly for Dr. Matthew T. Mahoney, and the mayor for John E. Drury. Alderman Brown moved a second ballot but his motion was not seconded. Ald. Barrett moved adjournment. Ald. Cummings seconded the motion and the council adjourned at 3:25 o'clock.

ADVICE FOR MOTHERS

The Use of the Baby's Teeth Helps the Blood to Run to Jaws, and Makes Both Strong

Baby's little teeth are meant to be used. Their use helps the blood to run to the jaws and make them and the teeth bear as strong and well formed as they should be. Very few persons know how much this means for beauty in later life. We must not feed the child on mushy things only. It must have good firm rusks or toast or crust of bread. Every doctor who has studied this subject is enraged when he sees the crusts cut away from children's bread. The crusts are rich in the cream of nourishment, and they are indispensable as exercise for the teeth and jaws. Not only does this exercise help the teeth and jaws themselves, but it starts the digestion of the food in the proper way by getting plenty of saliva mixed with it before it is swallowed.

Some of the modern wheat foods, whose names we all know, are excellent both in themselves and because they need chewing. If our children are to have teeth worth keeping we must stop feeding them on soft substances. And, though the teeth in the second year are only temporary, the better they are treated the more likely are their successors to be what genuine anatomists still kindly describe as the "permanent teeth."

THE PULMOTOR IS MEETING WITH REMARKABLE SUCCESS IN THE GREAT MINING CENTRES OF U. S.

USING THE PULMOTOR ON MINER OVERCOME BY GAS

If you want to commit suicide with as sure as shooting your intentions illuminating gas or other form of will be frustrated. No matter how asphyxiating gas be sure before you much you may desire to pass to the turn on the cock that there is no pulmotor within easy reach. If there is, motor won't let you. It's a hard thing to suffocate when someone is using on you a machine that pumps out of you the poisonous gas and pumps oxygen into you instead. Such an experience is enough to discourage the most hardy would-be suicide.

Throughout the United States the pulmotor is starting in on its work. It is not exactly very new, but neither is it old. It has attracted much attention in recent months for its good work in the mines and in the great cities where the danger of asphyxiation from gas is ever present. Just a few weeks ago seven firemen in Pittsburgh overcame at a big blaze that destroyed an electric plant, were taken from the ruins and pronounced dead. Forty minutes later the pulmotors began their beneficent work. Now Pittsburgh is "in" seven valuable lives.

Luckily for the firemen the pulmotors were at hand within two blocks of the fire, in a hospital in which the state mining institute had been giving demonstrations of the machine. It was stated significantly in the dispatch describing the work of the pulmotors that they "will be added to the fire department equipment at once."

Another of the cases in which the pulmotor was used occurred recently in Chicago. A young man and a young woman were overcome by gas in a store. They were unconscious when found, the pulse was not perceptible, and there was no visible sign of life save when a mirror was held to the mouths and a trace of moisture was discerned. The machines were used continuously on the patients for 36 hours. All of this time they were unconscious but they recovered.

The pulmotor comes in a box about

He really can't complain.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

30 inches long by 20 inches wide. It consists of a tube to which the cap which goes over the mouth and nose is attached, and this tube leads to an automatic supply check, which in turn is connected with an oxygen tank. There are directions about laying the body of the gas left in the back, depressing the head and pulling out the tongue to insure free passage of the air, as in the cases of drowning persons. After the cap is in place if there is even a very slight convulsive movement in the diaphragm the machine sends the oxygen down into the lungs automatically.

The supply of oxygen depends entirely on the strength of the respiration, so that there can never be an excess of oxygen. If there is no breathing the operator can work the check by hand, thus starting an involuntary movement where there is the least spark of life. As the patient recovers strength and breathes more deeply he gets a larger supply of air until he is breathing normally and is conscious. Among the users of the pulmotor is the bureau of mines of the United States government, which has been quick to note the possibilities of the machine in connection with coal mine rescue work. Gas is responsible for so large a fraction of the deaths of coal miners that the bureau "got busy" as soon as it heard of the pulmotor, which is the invention of a German scientist. The government mine rescue cars are being equipped with pulmotors, and the rescue brigades maintained by mining companies have been instructed in its use.

JUDGE LABARON B. COLT

Elected Senator From Rhode Island

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—The legislature of Rhode Island yesterday selected Judge

J. B. Colt, a republican, for United States senator.

Building Permits

The following building permits have been issued at the office of the inspector of buildings since the last were published:

Calixte Lequin, two-family house, 115-120 Fisher street. The building will be 21 by 32 feet, six-room flat, six stories, and the estimated cost is $2500.

William B. Kilpatrick will build a small store, 15 by 20 feet, one story, at 117 Pine street. The estimated cost is $300.

Emanuel Greenberg has been granted a permit to put a new roof on his building, 335-339 Malleson street. The estimated cost is $400.

Fashions of the Moment

Many of the new blouses are trimmed down the front with a narrow inset box plait studded with a row of dome shaped buttons placed in a serried line, one rim touching the other. These are, however, merely ornaments, the fastening of the blouse occurring at the back.

Although leather belted coats are much to the fore, the tailor made coat, belted merely at the back, is also seen. The ends of the suede or patent leather band stopping short at the underarm seams, while the coat from neck to hem is straight fronted.

A narrow band of patent leather—the same width as the belt—is repeated on the wrists of the sleeves, the edges being stitched, while they are sometimes piped with patent leather to match the waistcoat or collar.

Reversible gloves have much to recommend them in the eyes of the winter sportsman. Some of these are made with knitted silk cuffs, which are doubled over and provide a neat finish, while the purple and white and brown being favorite combinations.

Jacket Wrinkles

One wrinkle to make the wearer taller and slimmer is that of cutting a jacket longer at one side than at the other and to have this side, laid down with buttons, braid or anything that will make the balance drop to that point. The line around the jacket is not a gradual curve, but the cut is sharp and pointed. It leaves the short part, for instance, at the left under the arm and cuts down in a straight line to the middle of the other side, and this effect is carried out in front. Jackets of themselves are long, too, many inches longer than they were last spring, extending well below the hips.

Mid-Year Exams at Harvard

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—All departments of Harvard close today for the mid-year examination period begins tomorrow to last for nearly three weeks. As a consequence, quietness in the dormitories is the watchword for all the students must study hard to be able to cope with the exams, which are said to be about the stiffest in the country.

FOR NEW POSITIONS

Ald. Cummings Wants 2 Positions Created

When the municipal council gets together on the question of appropriations, Alderman Cummings will ask for a sufficient appropriation to cover the expense of two new positions. Mr. Cummings says that the inspector of buildings is badly in need of an assistant and that there should be another gas man in his department.

"The inspector of buildings has more than he can attend to and do the work properly," said Mr. Cummings, "and I will ask the municipal council to allow me money enough for an assistant inspector of buildings and an extra gas man. This is not an extravagance, but a necessity."

SOLICITOR GIVES OPINION

On Request of the Board of Health

The following opinion by the city solicitor to the board of health is self explanatory:

Board of Health, City of Lowell, January 21, 1913. Gentlemen: In reply to your request for an opinion upon the facts presented to the city solicitor, relative to the conduct of George A. Stewart, in conducting the business of his father's estate, and, as administrator thereof, holding himself out to the public as a master plumber, the city solicitor is of the opinion that the conduct as outlined by you in your communication, which is on file in your office, is a clear violation of the law.

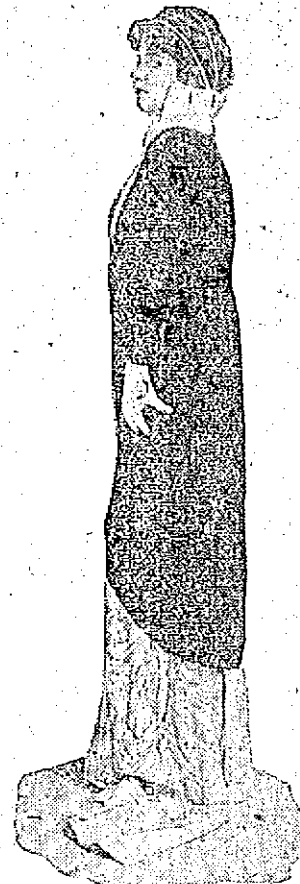

Respectfully,
J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor.

THE MAYOR IS ALARMED

At Financial Condition of the City

Mayor O'Donnell views the present financial condition of the city with considerable alarm. He says that the city's income for the year 1913 will be considerably less than in 1912 and the disbursements will be greater. The mayor hopes that the legislature will make the rate per thousand on taxes $15 instead of $12. He does not think this would remedy matters entirely, but he feels that it would help very materially.

Mrs. Mansfield Found in Venice

ROME, Jan. 22.—Mrs. William Mansfield, the American woman whose disappearance has caused much anxiety to her friends and occasioned an investigation by the Italian authorities, has been found in Venice, according to a despatch to the Giornale D'Italia.

Mrs. Mansfield arrived in Venice a fortnight ago and took a room at a boarding-house, which she left Monday.

The police came upon her lying unconscious in the street and removed her to a hospital. On regaining consciousness the woman said that she had been overcome by illness and had fainted. She remained in the hospital all night and left this morning.

The police say that she told them she belonged to a wealthy New York family and that the name of her husband, from whom she was separated, was William Mansfield.

Mrs. Mansfield left Sato, on Lake Garda, about two weeks ago after cashing an American check for $60 at a bank. She said she was going to Verona to buy paint brushes, but there is no trace of her having stayed at any hotel in Verona. Apparently she went direct to Venice.

CAT SAVES MASTER

Wakes Providence Newsdealer When Fire Threatens Them, Then Flees to Top of Fence

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 22.—The cat in a newspaper store saved the life of Dewey F. Adams, Jr., yesterday.

Hearing the cries of his pet and feeling a twinge at his bedclothes while he lay asleep in the rear of his business place at 752 Broad street, Adams awoke and found the place in flames. He managed to escape in his night clothes and sound the alarm.

After having awakened his master the cat followed him through the rear door and hid to a nearby fence.

Several Voted to March St. Patrick's Day

The Knights of Equity have decided to turn out and will without doubt present a large delegation in line on March 17th. The Holy Name society of St. John's church, North Chelmsford, has made a similar decision and has so reported to the chairman of the committee. It is confidently expected that there will be many out of town companies of the Irish volunteers and in this regard an endeavor is being made to form a provisional regiment. The Irish National Foresters have also been added to the ranks of the societies which have voted to parade and a delegation from Lawrence is expected to augment their ranks.

On Sunday afternoon, there will be a second gathering of the delegates from the various societies to make further plans for the observance of St. Patrick's day and to listen to the reports of the various committees in this regard.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the observance of the coming St. Patrick's day are exerting every effort to make the celebration a record one for Lowell. The main event of course will be the parade, as voted at the recent meeting of the delegates from the Irish Catholic societies in Hibernian hall.

TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Slayer of Wife is Sentenced—Son on Stand

ENETER, N. H., Jan. 22.—George B. Caswell, a Plaistow farmer, was sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife last May.

Caswell's son Bertram, a lad of 13 years, told the court how his father had sent him with a message to his mother, the parents having lived apart, asking for a meeting at the Plaistow cross-roads.

At this meeting Caswell discharged the contents of one barrel of a shotgun into his wife's body with fatal effect and then turned the other barrel on himself.

Caswell was permanently disfigured and barely escaped with his life. In court yesterday he sat with his head swathed in bandages while listening to the testimony of his son.

Lack of premeditation was claimed by Caswell's counsel, who sought sentence for second degree murder, but the arguments of the prosecution that Caswell, in borrowing the shotgun "to kill a horse," had premeditated his act prevailed.

BOLD BOY, BANDITS

Admit Taking Railroad Tickets and Money, Then Buying Bank to Hide Property in

CRANSTON, R. I., Jan. 22.—Two boy bandits were captured here yesterday and in the district court pleaded guilty to robbing the railroad station at South Auburn. They were placed under bonds of $1000 each for the grand jury.

They said they were Earl Martin and Albert Olson, each 14. They had, it is alleged, 427 tickets over the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and money taken from the store of Alexander Johnston in Lawrence street.

The boys said that they bought two small banks in which to hoard their money. They took the police officers to the Budlong Rose farm, and there, in an isolated spot near some outhouses, revealed where they had been hiding money and tickets. Martin, however, had his bank with him.

Musterole--Quick Relief No Blister!

MUSTEROLE is clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and the pain is gone!

Millions of people have adopted MUSTEROLE in place of the mustard plaster.

You will find it in large hospitals. Doctors and nurses use MUSTEROLE and recommend it to their patients.

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's or in 25 and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

Musterole has helped me so much that I can hardly do without it.—Mrs. G. W. Thompson, San Antonio, Texas.

Campaign to Wipe Out St. Louis' Church Debt

WHIST HELD LAST NIGHT BY

MARTIN FAUREAU

Rev. L. C. Bedard, Assistant Pastor, Ably Assisted by Members of the Parish

Rev. L. C. Bedard, assistant pastor of St. Louis' parish, ably assisted by a large number of parishioners is making ing an energetic campaign to wipe out the church debt of $27,500, in order to build a new church in the parish, which is badly needed, as for the past few years services have been held in a wooden chapel which is inadequate for the needs of the parish.

A series of whists and entertainments is being organized, and as soon as the scarlet fever epidemic is over, a bazaar will be conducted in the paragon school hall in Boliver street. Inasmuch as the proposed new temple is to cost over $200,000 some work has to be done in order to wipe out the old debt and get a substantial amount to get the building started.

However, Fr. Bedard is not discouraged and feels that the way things are being pushed along, West Centralville will soon have a fine brick or granite structure. For this purpose a number of social events are being organized, among them being the following:

Whist by Marie Jacques-Carter, Feb. 10 at the school hall; whist and concert by members of the church choir on Jan. 22; whist by Mrs. Price on Jan. 23; whist by Miss Emma Laroche on Jan. 25; whist by Miss Dupuis on Jan. 26; Sunday, Feb. 2, presentation of "Les Boucaniers" by a group of amateurs; Monday, Feb. 3, box party; Feb. 11, whist by Mrs. Savard; Feb. 17, entertainment by group of young parishioners. All of these events are to be held at the school hall.

On Jan. 24, Miss U. Desmettes will give a candy party at 91 Allen avenue. On Jan. 25, Miss Alice Bourassa will give a whist, while on Saturday, Feb. 1, a bean supper will be held.

Besides these many events, two contests are now going on, one for a fancy pillow given by Miss Marie R. Maillet, the contestants being Miss Martha Favreau and Alice Bourassa. The other is for a solid gold watch and is an original one. There is a ticket for every second for 12 hours, and the same are being sold at five cents apiece.

When the tickets are sold the time piece which by the way will cost $100, will be placed in a store window and wound. The watch will run until it stops and if it stops, say at 12 o'clock, a minute and a second, the holder of this ticket will be given the time piece.

The first whist of the series was given last night in the school hall. The affair was organized by Miss Martha Favreau and was very successful. The hall was filled and numerous prizes were awarded the winners, while a varied musical program was rendered.

Mr. Oliver J. David, president of the gathering, and the entertainment program was as follows: Overture, Harmony orchestra; song, Miss Alice Pratte, accompanied at the piano by Miss Antoinette Pratte; song, "Glow Worm," Paul Lincke, Miss Josephine Charbonneau, accompanist, Miss Annie McKerscher; song, "Santa Maria," Faure, by Ernest Dupont, accompanist; Miss Bernadette Fontaine; song, "No Springs," Gounod, by Miss Josephine Charbonneau, accompanist, Miss Annie McKerscher; piano selection by Miss Annie McKerscher and finale by Harmony orchestra.

The young women who assisted Miss Favreau as scorers were as follows: Misses Alice Genta, Marie Boucher, Eva Caron, Alice Jordan, Alexandrine Ducharme, Clara Caron, Blanche Daigle and Beatrice Chaput. The following served as judges in making the awards: Messrs. Armand Thibodeau, Edouard Houle and Henri J. Charbonneau.

TUFTS GIVEN $20,000

Miss Hannah S. Moulton of Kensington, N. H., Leaves Residue of Estate For Scholarship

ENETER, N. H., Jan. 22.—Tufts college is given the residue of the estate of Miss Hannah S. Moulton of Kensington, estimated at about $20,000, for the founding of a scholarship under the terms of Miss Moulton's will, filed in the probate court yesterday.

Miss Moulton also gives $5000 in trust to Prof. James A. Tufts, Judge Henry A. Chase and the judge of probate for Rockingham county as a fund for the support of preaching at the Universalist church in Kensington.

To the Kensington Free Public Library is given $1000, the income to be expended in the purchase of books.

ASSAULT ON PRISONER

Charge on Which John Morris Will Be Brought to Court From Deer Island Friday

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—John Morris, a prisoner at Deer Island, will be brought into the East Boston district court on Friday on a writ of habeas corpus to answer to a charge of assault and battery upon another prisoner, John Henricks, who he is alleged to have attacked with a pair of scissors, inflicting a severe wound, which required the services of the prison physician, Dr. John F. Sullivan. Complaint against Morris was made yesterday by William Hendry, an officer at Deer Island.

WILL YOU DO YOURS?

TO ASK ACTION BY GRAND JURY

Boston Garment Workers Collecting Evidence of Alleged Violation of Laws

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Officials and attorneys of the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union of this city are collecting evidence which they will present to District Attorney Felleiter, as a basis for grand jury action against manufacturers, who, they allege, are violating the laws by discharging employees who are threatening to join the union, and who are threatening to join the union.

The following copy of a contract, which, according to the attorneys for the union, is illegal, was turned over to the union officials last night, as being one that was handed to a workman with the information that he would either sign it or lose his job:

"I (name of person) deposit $25 with the company as security for the faithful performance by me of the services to be rendered.

"In accepting the same employment I agree that the shop of the company shall be run as an open shop and that I will not take part in any strike.

"I agree that if I leave the employment of the company without 30 days notice in writing that the said money shall belong absolutely to the company to liquidate damages by my breach of agreement."

Many of the persons who received these contracts, according to the union officials, replied that they could not deposit the security, which ranged from $20 to $100 in some cases and these persons were informed by the employers that they could sign the contract and the security would be taken out of their wages at the rate of $2 a week.

To Indorse Wage Scale Tomorrow night a meeting of the joint board of the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union will be held to indorse a wage scale which has been drawn up. It will then be sent to the International organization for indorsement.

It is believed that the wage scale and other matters included in the demands will be returned to this city by the first of next month with the full indorsement of the International organization.

In less than a week after the indorsement of the wage scale is received, every manufacturer in the city will receive the demands and those who do not grant them, will face a strike.

Last night, when seven organization shop meetings were held, it was estimated by the officers of the union that over 12,000 persons have been enrolled in the union.

Among the demands will be the eight-hour day, the abolishment of the system that allows clothes to be sent out to tenement houses to be finished, and other minor matters that do not suit the workers.

Only Four Offenders in Police Court

The police court session this morning was exceedingly brief and but four offenders were on hand to explain their respective misdemeanors to Judge Enright and listen to his commentary. Of these, three were members of the society for economy in city water by drinking beer, and the fourth was charged with larceny.

Napoleon Bibeault was given a vacation of fifteen days for trying to measure his capacity for starting firewater. James Mangin received a 10 day retirement from public life and John O'Brien was separated from six dollars.

The charge against John T. Emmett was the larceny of some articles of clothing. Through his counsel, J. J. Hennessey, he pleaded not guilty and the date set for his trial was January 28.

LOCAL ADVISORY BOARD

Is Afraid of Losing Mr. Dooley's Services

At the meeting of the advisory board of the Industrial school, held yesterday, the following communication was addressed to the school board relative to a reported attempt to get Supt. Dooley of the Industrial school to go to Fall River to open a school there:

To the Members of the Lowell School Board: Gentlemen—The advisory board of the Lowell Industrial school desires to express its unanimous approval of the efficiency of the Industrial school and to acknowledge its appreciation of the meritorious work of its principal, Mr. William A. Dooley.

The advisory board has sufficient knowledge of an offer made by the city of Fall River for the services of Mr. Dooley to warrant immediate action by your honorable board if Lowell is to retain Mr. Dooley in his present capacity.

The progress of the school since its institution is deserving of special notice. The equipment secured at a minimum of cost to the city, the keen supervision exercised and the apparent good results accruing to the city are matters for which Mr. Dooley is entirely responsible.

The school is now in such process of perfection that any change in its management would decrease its efficiency.

The advisory board at a meeting held today authorized the chairman to forward this communication with the recommendation that your board equal any inducement offered by the city of Fall River for the retention of the services of Mr. Dooley.

Respectfully submitted, John H. Murphy, Chairman, Advisory Board, Lowell Industrial School.

No action was taken on the communication at last night's meeting of the school board, probably because of the amount of other business to attend to.

LEAGUE GAMES ROLLED

Many Matches on the Alleys Last Night

The Crescent alleys were busy with several matches last night. Two games in the Barons bowling league were rolled off. The Calvary Baptist team completely outclassed the team from the First Trinitarian. The Baptist bowlers took all three strings and the totals, 1255 to 1288. Myrick of the winners was high man with a total of 248.

The other game in the inter-church league was close and exciting all the way through. In this contest St. Paul's Methodist team defeated that of the First Baptist by the score of 1250 to 1254, although the winners lost two strings. This match was not decided until the two last men had completed their roll.

The U. S. Machine and the Testers bowled off their game last night with the former on the top end of a 1273 to 1247 score. These two teams are members of the Hibernian bowling league and the rise in performance was very acceptable to the U. S. Machine team.

The Eldons won from the Old Sixties in a slow and uninteresting game last night, defeating them by over a hundred plus in the three strings. L. Beauregard of the winners lunged up the very good total of 283 for his 30 oxes.

The Y. M. C. I. League had a busy time last night. Two six-men teams, the Red Sox and the Silent Knights, rolled off an exciting game. The "quiet" team did not have a chance to win at any stage of the contest, being defeated by the score of 1515 to 1528.

The Quakers and the Braves, also of the Y. M. C. I. league, were much more evenly matched, and showed better form. Rescoe's total of 307 was the best of the evening. The Quakers won the last two strings and the totals by the score of 1555 to 1560. The scores:

DOHAN IS TRAINING HARD

For Bout on Friday With McDonough

That the local sport followers are to see a lively bout at the meeting of the Lowell Sun and Athletic club on Friday evening is evident from the following dispatch from New York:

"Johnny Dohan, the local lightweight, started to train yesterday for a 12-round bout he has to fill against Young McDonough, the Manchester, N. H., lightweight, which will be decided at the Lowell S. & A. club Friday night. The Bronx lightweight only recently met McDonough in a 10-round bout at Albany, and on that occasion the boxer was fast and interesting enough to satisfy the most satiated follower of the ring sport.

"Dohan jumped at the chance to meet McDonough in a return engagement, and asserts that he will have a much better opportunity to display himself of his real skill in a bout of 12 rounds and where a decision will be rendered. The New York boy is already in fine boxing form but he will continue in his training at Brown's gymnasium where he will box daily with Joe Rivers, the Mexican, Hartsfield, who recently conquered Lench Cross, the sensational east side lightweight.

"Much depends upon the outcome of his match against McDonough for Dohan. Several prospective engagements hang in the balance and he must win in order that they be consummated. The local boxer is very optimistic over the result and feels certain that he will score a decisive win this time."

A letter from Manchester states that McDonough was never in better condition.

Three other good bouts are on the program, and the first number will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Dope on Amateur Standing

Here in this country we are supposed to have the finest enforcement of amateur sports in the world. Every man who enters an amateur contest must prove that he is an amateur and not a professional.

In charge to prove that he is not a professional in England. In other words, he must have in his possession a certificate from the Amateur Association of America, showing that he has been passed as an amateur. This sounds as though it would be well nigh impossible to complete in amateur sports if you were not an amateur.

In your mind, an amateur. Do you remember when Cutler, one of the best tackled Harvard ever had, was disqualified just before the Penn game for giving two boxing lessons at 50 cents apiece? Now what do think of this—Perry Houghton's application has been accepted for the "Amateur" Bantamweight. Is there any difference in the interpretation of that rule? Of course there is, and we know that the Harvard man only took one dollar of professional money. It would seem as though the man who received the thousands could better afford to lose his amateur standing.

Sullivan and Thomas

Tommy Sullivan of Lawrence has accepted the challenge of Joe Thomas of this city, which was published in a Lawrence paper.

Sullivan has beaten Joe once and the Lowell above artist has also slipped over a punch on the down-river boy and fought him two draws.

Basketball Games Wanted

The employed boys' basketball team of the Y. M. C. A. wants to play any team in the city or immediate vicinity at 15 lbs. team weight. Send all applications to the Y. M. C. A.

The following players of the employed boys' team will please report for practice tonight at the new gymnasium: Deane, Mitchell, McElroy, Greenwood, and Angus.

New Bicycle Invention

England has an invention which transforms the ordinary bicycle into a self-propelled machine. The auto wheel consists of a long 60 horsepower gasoline engine built in a strongly made bicycle wheel, which can easily be attached alongside the back wheel of an ordinary bicycle, converting it into a motorcycle.

When fixed securely in place the little motor drives the auto wheel, which, in turn, carries the cycle and rider forward. By the help of this little motor the cycle becomes a ready means of travel, and enough gasoline is carried in the tank for a number of miles.

GREAT JOCKEY MAY BE MISSING FROM THE SADDLE NEXT SEASON

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The English turf has announced that increasing weight will be minus the services of one of its greatest jockeys next season. It is said on good authority that Joseph Wooton, who led the list of winning horse pilots for the past three years in this country, has announced that increasing weight will force him to give up riding next season. Wooton is considered one of the greatest jockeys the English turf has ever produced. For the past three years he has been the rival of Danny Maher, the famous American jockey.

CUBS NOW THE "CRABS" BIG

Team Dubbed After New

Manager

Critics already have dubbed the 1913 Cubs as the "Crabs." President Chas. Webb Murphy admits that he fears for the safety of umpires next year.

Johnny Evers, the Cubs' new manager, years ago was slyed the biggest crab in baseball. The Trojan does not deny this—in fact, he has often boasted of it and laughed when he named himself the "human crab."

Otis Clymer, the veteran Minneapolis outfielder, whom Evers considers ugly in the outer garden, has for years been recognized as a champion crab. They say his crawls have won many a game for the Millers.

Eddie McDonald, the new utility player secured from Sacramento, is also an umpire hater. Crabs make wise players, Evers argues. Some say this was one reason why Evers traded Downey for McDonald.

Miller, outfielder, is also known as an ill tempered player, and the famous Hebble Zimmerman, by his threats to bite off umpires' ears, won his title as a crab. True, Evers has promised to control his temper as much as possible, but Murphy is afraid Johnny will forget this promise in the heat of close diamond battles.

BOARD IN DEADLOCK

Fitchburg Aldermen Fail to Elect As-

essor—Also in Deadlock Over One Assistant Assessor

FITCHBURG, Jan. 22.—The board of aldermen became deadlocked last night over the election of an assessor for three years, and also over the election of an assistant assessor in Ward 6.

Charles H. Moore, for three years elected as an assessor, who is seeking re-election as an assessor for three years, was opposed by William S. Putnam.

The matter of the election of an assessor will undoubtedly be taken up at the next meeting.

Alderman Pierce attempted to defeat John P. Gallagher as assistant assessor in Ward 6, a position he has held for the past seven years, but failed.

Only three of the six members voted with him. Alderman McIntire supported Mr. Gallagher, with Aldermen Allen and Moran. Alderman Groat, Hitchcock and Pierce supported Pierce in a deadlock. Those were elected assessor.

Frederic H. Bell, who leaves the board in a deadlock. Those were elected assessor.

THE LOWELL HIGH BOYS

Have Good Quarters to Practice for Track

Not many people in Lowell realize what an exceptional opportunity the boys in our high school, as well as the coaches who train them, have of making an athletic record for themselves.

The high school annex provides one of the finest indoor tracks in the state. The available floor space is only excelled by two tracks, in the opinion of the writer, those at the Irvington street armory and Mechanics hall, in Boston. With this fact for an asset, it is not beyond the realm of possibility to expect a championship team right here in Lowell.

The various private schools which compete with the public schools, especially in big inter-scholastic meets such as that of the Boston Athletic association have gotten the idea firmly fixed in their heads that because they pay more for their education, their athletic ability must be far superior to that of the public school youth. It is sad to relate but the great public school teams are thinking the same way to judge by their performances in competition with the larger schools. This, however, is a proven fallacy.

At the time Andover, Exeter and Worcester academy were supreme in schoolboy athletics Dr. Charles Wadsworth, an old Dartmouth performer, took charge of track sports at Volkman school, a small institution with about forty pupils. Volkman is not a public school but the text will apply equally well for he was ignored in athletics by the "Big Three." Unprovided with the equipment of the larger schools, "Charley," in the short space of four years developed a team which proved unbeatable. His team was composed of six men but they were all first-string material.

Herbie Jacques, holder of several Harvard records today, was captain of the team. Reggie Foster, intercollegiate sprint champion and captain of the 1911 Harvard track team, was another member of the Volkman team. Ernie Nelson, who beat several college champs while in prep was another.

If all this can be brought about under the above conditions shouldn't we be able to expect some such results right here at home with the conditions so much more favorable? With the track squad the size and calibre that it is this year it seems as though we may do more than win the meets held at the annex.

A Word About Cawley

"Cawley," captain of last season's local high school football team, is a never athlete. Standing about five feet nine and a half, and weighing 165 pounds, his physical development is remarkable for a school boy. Fast on his feet and a quick thinker, he will be an asset to any college endeavor. Without hitting the good work of the other members of last season's football team in the annual Lawrence game, it is only fair to say that it was Cawley alone who saved out a defeat for Lowell at the hands of their old rivals, Mr. Horne, principal of the Lawrence high school, when talking to the writer about the game, remarked: "You were mighty lucky that you met that man Cawley this year, otherwise we would have licked you as sure as fate." His wonderful defensive work in backing up the line was the only thing that stopped the Lawrence advance on three separate occasions. On the offense he is a first-class line plunger, keeping his feet well and always carrying his head up, rare qualities of prep school players.

"Ed" is also the best man on the high school track team with the 12 pound shot and is captain of the baseball team, playing the third sack himself. He will go to college next fall, but has not fully decided which one.

Bartenders Have Pictures Taken at New Haven Church—Pastor Sorry He Missed Them

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 22.—The New Haven bluebirds are up in arms over what they consider the latest desecration of the historic green. The first act to arouse their ire was the placing of the Pilo Bennett memorial fountain, then followed a series of other annoying incidents.

But the climax was reached Sunday, when the International League of Bartenders, who were having a convention here, had their pictures taken on the steps of Center church, of which Jonathan Edwards was once pastor.

The deacons of the church are much excited and cannot see why the young pastor, Rev. Oscar Maurer, fails to agree with them. Dr. Maurer, who has been here only a short time, says that if he had known the bartenders were coming over he would have opened the church doors for them.

GASOLINE IS GOING UP

New Rise in Price Predicted in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—A rise in the price of gasoline from 17 to 20 cents a gallon is predicted within a short time according to officers of the Standard Oil company in Boston.

According to garage keepers and owners, this advance will mean a retail price of from 25 to 30 cents a gallon, coming over he would have opened the doors for them.

LADIES' AUXILIARY MET

Held Installation of Officers in A. O. H. Hall

PAST PRESIDENT DELIA O'BRIEN PRESENTED GOLD WATCH

There Were Addresses By Prominent A. O. H. Men and An Entertainment During the Evening

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held a largely attended business meeting and entertainment in A. O. H. hall last night. The principal business of the evening was the installation of the recently elected officers. This ceremony was performed by County Board President Mrs. Jennie Gavin, of Watertown and the officers to be inducted were the following: President, Catherine Gaffney; vice president, Mary King; recording secretary, Mary Rita Markham; financial secretary, Della O'Brien; treasurer, Mrs. Maria Conroy; mistress of ceremonies, Della Fitzgerald; sentinels, Mrs. Mary Curran; planter, Miss Mollie Handley; spiritual director, Rev. Dr. Keleher of St. Peter's church; physician, Dr. John Boyle; sick committee, Lucy Sheridan; Mary Rogers, and Julia Beardon; finance committee, Nora Sheahan; Catherine Lynch and Della O'Brien; standing committee, Mary O'Brien and Mary Haffrey; employment committee, Margaret Barry, Katherine Murray, Nellie O'Brien, Annie O'Grady and Julia Donnelly.

Literature committee, Catherine Beardon, Irene Bore, and Elizabeth Lynch. During the evening Rev. Dr. Keleher, P. D. O'Brien a gold watch from the members as a token of appreciation of the good work she has accomplished on behalf of the organization during her term of office. The recipient was taken completely by surprise but managed to respond with a very pretty speech of appreciation. Rev. Dr. Keleher then addressed the members of the auxiliary on matters pertaining to the good of the order and his words were both interesting and instructive. A highly pleasing entertainment was given at the close of the business session, and it included the following numbers: Songs, Mr. James R. Donnelly; song, Mrs. Grace Walsh; vocal trio by Misses Yvonne, Alice and Bertha; piano, song, Grace McCaffrey; duet, Misses Alice and Bertha Dion. There were addresses by Patrick Mahoney, president of Central council, Dr. John Boyle and Mr. James McManmon. The evening was a most enjoyable one for all present.

CUPS WERE PRESENTED

To the Eliot Boy Scouts, Pennant Winners

The examination for scout honors and the presentation of cups for last year's baseball championships were made last night at the Y. M. C. A. by the governing council of the Boy Scouts of Lowell and vicinity.

The examining board is composed of Captain William P. White, Jr., S. N. D., Rev. Dr. Keleher, Dr. C. B. Livingston, George H. Stevens of Dracut, Scoutmaster James Kibler of North Chelmsford, Arthur Truhey, superintendent of the North Chelmsford public schools, Mr. J. H. Allen, state forester at Mr. Wachusett, was the guest of the council. The Eliot troops were the winners of the 1912 championship and each member received an inscribed cup. The following boys were awarded these cups: Captain Edwin Edwards, Sidney Peters, Leslie Clark, Carl Hilton, Arthur Wilson, Albert Palm, Hugh Wier, Dwight Deane, Ernest Orrell, and Leon Van Etten. The trophy was presented to the winners by the governing council. The trophy was presented to the winners by the governing council. The trophy was presented to the winners by the governing council.

Angelo Marcella Struck by Train While Riding Railroad Tricycle Near Marlboro Junction

MARLBORO, Jan. 22.—Angelo Marcella, 35 years old, married, employed as a section hand on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, who lives at 25 Liberty street, was struck by a locomotive east of Marlboro Junction about 3.30 yesterday afternoon. Marcella was riding a railroad tricycle when a train from Boston rounded a curve and before the engine could stop the tricycle struck the man, throwing him to one side. His right hand was badly lacerated and fractured and he was also injured about the body and right shoulder. He was taken to the Marlboro hospital and attended by Drs. J. J. Kelley and T. F. McCarthy, who fear that it will be necessary to amputate the hand.

Aldermen Break Up in Row

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—The meeting of the Malden board of aldermen last night ended in a wordy wrangle and broke up in disorder. The argument originated over the chairmanship. Alderman John R. Robbins had originally been unanimously nominated, but at the election Charles L. Moore was chosen by a vote of 3 to 4. It was charged that improper pressure was brought to bear. On the death of Mayor George L. Farrell the chairman of the board of aldermen automatically took his place. Moore is a candidate for mayor.

USE OF RAILWAY PASSES Being Investigated by Inter-State Com.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Improper and illegal use of railway passes is being investigated by the interstate commerce commission. The inquiry has proceeded far enough to show in the language of the commission that carriers have very generally obeyed the letter of the law but it is indicated by information that has reached the commission that the issuance of passes for state travel has operated to defeat the purpose of the act to regulate commerce, that passes for state travel have been issued to certain shippers and denied to others; and the moving of interstate shipments of goods has been the routing of interstate shipments of property.

The first public hearing on the subject will be held by Commissioner Harlan at Denver tomorrow. It is intended to hold hearings in all parts of the country but the commission says Colorado is selected for the first hearing because it appears to have been a hot bed for the issuance of free state transportation for the purpose of influencing the movement of interstate traffic, this being due, perhaps to the fact that it has no state law forbidding the issuance of passes.

Placed Total of $214.42

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 22.—Edward Randolph Pringleton, a Yale student of the senior class who lives in Scituate, yesterday morning in the city court, pleading in a false alarm of fire. After a hearing he was fined $200 and costs. The fine and costs, which amount to $214.42, were paid by Frank S. Hoff, man of New York, a relative. It was brought out that the Yale faculty also intended to deal out punishment.

Pringleton stood the witness stand after pleading guilty and told a story. He said that on Thursday he drank three "fishhouse punches." Hours later, returning from a dance he sounded an alarm, but heard footsteps behind him and ran.

Tolkman Krinsky arrested him and he had since been in jail, he feeling to allow anyone to go his bonds of $1000.

No More Fights in Reno

RENO, Nev., Jan. 22.—Governor Odell has sounded the death knell of prize fighting in Nevada, so far as finish contests are concerned in a message to the state legislature which convened Monday. He recommends the repeal of the present law allowing finish fights with payment of a $1000 fee to the victor and recommends an amendment fixing 20-round battles with a reduced fee as substitute.

CHELMSFORD

The circulating library of the Chelmsford ninth grade, introduced by Miss Gertrude Ridgway, who is substituting for Miss Ruth Butters during her leave of absence, is much appreciated. Every home read by a scholar has to be outlined and the summary jotted down.

A debate was immensely enjoyed by the many people of West Chelmsford who attended. It was held last evening in historical hall. The subject of the debate was: "Resolved that Equal Justice to All Demands the Right of Recall of the Judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts." This debate was in charge of the West Chelmsford Debating Society.

Uncollected letters for this week at the post office are for Joseph Beaudet, Miss Golda Donaldson, Miss Beattie Flowers, Mrs. M. E. Elliott, Miss Betty Layton, Fred Richardson.

At the literary union last evening a lecture was given on the "Art of Ancient Greece." Illustrated with pictures of Greek sculpture.

Miss Clement Harvey of New Hampshire, who has been spending the past three weeks with Miss Helen Case of the Homestead is about to depart for Boston much to the regret of the many dear friends which have made her acquaintance in town.

The auxiliary to the woman's board of missions held a meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mrs. W. W. Kilbourne's home on Littleton street. Miss Helen Chadbourne, the head nurse at the milk station of Lowell, was the speaker of the afternoon.

The Holy Cross Alumni meeting to be held at Young's hotel, Boston, is attended by Rev. Edmund Schofield, pastor of St. John's church at North Chelmsford. Rev. Fr. Schofield is a graduate of Holy Cross college of which St. John's is a member.

The Hon. David I. Walsh will be the principal speaker of the evening.

URGES PASSAGE OF BILL

Gov. Wilson Wants Reform of Corp. Laws

TRIDENT, N. J., Jan. 22.—Gov. Wilson made his second move toward obtaining reform of the corporation laws of New Jersey. Having caused the bills to be drafted and introduced in the state legislature the governor today asked the legislative leaders to call a conference of members of both houses for next Tuesday at which he will explain his program for the session and urge particularly the passage of the corporation bill. The governor does not expect any opposition among the democrats, who have a majority in both houses and is hopeful that the bills may be enacted before he leaves here to assume the presidency.

Many letters have come to the governor commending the bills and Chancellor Edward Walker, who drafted them, is as a consequence being suggested for attorney-general in the Wilson cabinet. Judge Walker had been vice chancellor until a year ago when he succeeded Chancellor Mahon Pitney, now associate justice of the United States supreme court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—President Taft conferred today with more than 50 republican members of the house whose support he asked for the bill passed by the senate appropriating $200,000 for a memorial structure to Abraham Lincoln in Potomac park here. The president has heard reports that the house might shelve the senate bill and expressed a fear to the congressmen today that such action would mean a memorial provided at this session of congress.

Some of the republicans present favored a memorial park from Washington to the Gettysburg battlefield. An act providing for the monument to Lincoln in Washington, the president said, need not interfere with the bill for a memorial road.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Shiller of 67 Westford street. Mr. Shiller is the popular and well known manager of the Boston & Lowell Express company.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 22.—A brick building at Savon and Jay streets in course of construction as a moving picture theatre collapsed today and buried eight men in the debris, including the superintendent of construction. Six of the men were taken to a hospital, where it was said their injuries are serious.

VERDICT FOR $39,000

Judge Crosby Finds for the Park-Sq. Auto Station Against Frank J. Tyler Et Als

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Judge Crosby of the superior court has found for the Park-Sq. Auto Station for $39,000 and interest in a suit against Frank J. Tyler et als, for commissions for the sale of 60 taxicabs to the Taxi Service company.

Plaintiff had a contract for the exclusive agency in this state with the American Locomotive company for the sale of automobiles. The defendant claimed that taxicabs were not automobiles within the meaning of the contract, but the court found that they were automobiles and were intended by the parties to be included in the term.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Shiller of 67 Westford street. Mr. Shiller is the popular and well known manager of the Boston & Lowell Express company.

Rev. Henri Watello, D. M. L., pastor of St. Joseph's parish and Rev. Arnold Haron, O. M. L., have gone to New Bedford on a business trip.

In the article upon Post 42, G. A. R., published last week in this paper, the names of Patrick P. Brady and Philip J. Brady were omitted from the list of members.

We are still refining muffs with good quality satin for face and repairing and redyeing all kinds of partly worn muffs at equally low prices. Pur Dept. main floor, Columbia store, Telephone.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Brassill of Walnut street had a son added to their family on the day the home rule bill passed the house of commons. Mr. Brassill had the baby named John Redmond Brassill in honor of the event.

Frederick Timmins of Butler street has returned from a visit to the home of his mother in Dorchester. Mr. Timmins' father died quite suddenly on Wednesday last and the funeral services were held on Sunday at St. Mary's Episcopal church, Upham's corner, Dorchester.

The men of the Fifth Street Baptist church and congregation held their monthly meeting last night in the church vestry. Hiram C. Gordon, the newly elected president, presided. There were reports from the various departments.

Messrs. Shaw, Scott, Howard and Conley, songs were given by Messrs. Swartz, Ingham, James, and R. Hollingsworth. Mr. Hollingsworth also played some harmonica solos. Readings were given by Messrs. Cowdell and Macdonald. Mr. Miles, the musical director of the church, played some exquisite piano solos. Refreshments were served at the close. The executive committee will meet at the close of the service on Sunday evening.

DRAMATIC CIRCLE

Group of Young Men Who So Successfully Presented "Les Boucaniers" Form New Organization

The young men who recently presented the drama entitled "Les Boucaniers" at the Opera House for the benefit of the rebuilding of St. Jean Baptiste church, met at the college hall last evening and formed a dramatic circle, the name of which has not as yet been selected.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. Jerome Dils, O. M. L., and it was decided to form into an organization and give dramatic presentations at least four times a year. Mr. Arcelle Brunelle was elected president of the new club, while Mr. Abraham J. Vienneau was elected secretary. Rev. Jerome Dils, O. M. L., being unanimously chosen as director.

The other members of the circle are: Wilfrid Roudreau, Ernest Leinre, George Labrecque, Edmund Murphree, Joseph Larose, Alfred Gormann, Louis D. St. Louis, Arthur Gagnon, Alfred Savard, Joseph Bellemare, Wilfrid Hervey, Adolphe Lussier, Alfred Beauchamp, Joseph Senechal, Henry Donette, Maurice Armand, Nestor Beauchamp, Robert Marchand, Rodolphe East, Henri Hamilton, Joseph Gormann, Rodolphe Roudreau, Charles Roudreau.

At the conclusion of the meeting "Les Boucaniers" was reproduced before a large and appreciative audience.

ST. COLUMBA'S REUNION

supra, while William Carr deserves commendation for his fine whistling solo.

The women had a number of local hits and jokes which caused much amusement. It is rumored that these jokes were written especially for the occasion by a well known city hall man, who was not adverse to raising a laugh on himself.

The "Honey Boys" are certainly a first class bunch of entertainers, and are to be congratulated on their performance of last evening. The officers of the "Honey Boys" are as follows:

President, James P. Shugrue; vice president, Charles C. Sadtler; business manager and treasurer, Edward J. Handley; pianist, Miss Anna T. Murphy; musical director, William H. Way; and secretary, Charles A. Carey.

The ensemble singers are: Raymond Carr, Charles A. Carey, William T. Carr, James Carlin, Anthony A. Doyle, Arthur L. Gowing, Joseph Mahan, James Maugher, Richard Molloy, Albert J. Gibson, John Quibban, Stephen J. Reynolds, Eugene Robitaille, Percy Warren, Edward and Edward Marshall, Fred Barrett, James P. Carr and James Stevenson.

The program was as follows:

Opening Overture, Entire Company Solo, Master Paul Coleman

"After All That I've Been to You," Andrew Doyle

"That Old Girl of Mine," Charles Sadtler

"When You're Married," James P. Shugrue

"A Girlie Was Just Made to Love," Master Paul Coleman

Whistling Solo, William Carr

"Send Me My Overcoat," Edward Handley

"Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," John Wilby

"On the Mississippi," Cleveland Nobles

"The Ocean Never Sleeps," Guy Johnson

Finale: "Till Be a Soldier," Entire Company

(Solo sustained by James Stevenson)

After the concert, general dancing was enjoyed until midnight. The orchestra furnished the music for a very pleasant order of 16 dances and four extras.

Mention ought to be made of the souvenir programs of the reunion that were distributed during the evening.

On the cover of each one is a photograph of Rev. John A. Deagan, the pastor of St. Columba's church.

TO AVERT FINANCIAL PANICS

Rep. Glass Talks of Currency Reform—Ridiculed the Aldrich-Vreeland Act

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—That it is not unreasonable, but wholly in accordance with past experience, to expect a "financial panic" similar to the one in 1907 at some time in the future, was the declaration of Rep. Carter Glass of Virginia, chairman of the subcommittee of the house committee on banking and currency, in an address before the annual meeting of the national chamber of commerce. No one could tell, Mr. Glass said, when such a financial disaster would come, but he declared "there are symptoms that should not go unobserved."

At the outset of his talk Mr. Glass called particular attention to the statement made recently before his committee by a banker of the west that not even during the panic of 1907 did he experience greater difficulty in meeting the demands upon him than during the last autumn when he was obliged to let his reserves run down to accommodate his customers.

"I would not commit myself to any definite prediction as to a recurrence of the trouble of 1907," said Mr. Glass, "but I do say that it would be the height of folly for us to defer action until it is forced upon us by the imminence of panic."

Mr. Glass ridiculed the idea that the Aldrich-Vreeland currency act, which expires June 30, 1914, is a preventive of panics. He declared that although "we have just passed through a situation almost as critical as that of 1907, not a single national bank in the country was willing to hold the signal of distress that would be involved in making application for the sort of currency which the Aldrich-Vreeland act authorizes."

The speaker insisted that currency reform is urgent and the time for action, "postponement can result only in embarrassment," said he, "perhaps in actual disaster." He pointed out that upon the business and commercial life of the country rests a large part of the responsibility for action or inaction. The fact that currency reform has not yet been accomplished the speaker asserted.

Secretary Nagel

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, in an address, declared that the present methods of financing tariff legislation are "disorganized, antiquated and without system. Rep. Henry D. Clayton of Alabama defended these methods. He contended that congress is amply able to frame tariff legislation without the "aid of a few men who work behind closed doors."

Secretary Nagel appealed for a tariff board as absolutely necessary for the framing of proper legislation; defended President Taft's administration; told the need of currency reform and dwelt upon the importance of protecting the coastwise shipping in making Panama canal tolls.

In conclusion Secretary Nagel said the high cost of living was due to waste, ostentation and display on the part of the American people.

B. & A. Railroad Strike

CONDUCTORS AND TRAINMEN MAY JOIN STRIKERS

Passenger Train Service Operated With New Men Today—Electric Cars Connected With Trains

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 22.—The possibility that the conductors and trainmen will join with the engineers and firemen in their strike against the Bangor & Aroostook railroad for increased wages was seriously considered today according to union men.

The conductors and trainmen some time ago made a demand for better payment for their labors and fixed a time limit which expires on next Monday. Two of the grand officers of the Order of Railway Conductors were expected to arrive today and the men intended to appeal to the union for immediate action by the union on the ground that their lives were endangered by riding behind men whom they claimed are not experienced engineers.

The passenger train service operated with the men employed to take the places of the striking engineers and firemen was continued today on the main lines but no freight was moved. The railroad officials hoped to start freight trains on Friday or Saturday. Arrangements were made with the local electric road to run electric cars between Bangor and the North Bangor station. The Bangor & Aroostook, six miles from here, to connect with all trains and transport passengers, mails and baggage. This arrangement was necessary by the refusal of the Maine Central railroad to haul Bangor & Aroostook trains between Northern Maine Junction and Bangor Union station.

MISS GOULD AND MR. SHEPARD

MR. AND MRS. FINLEY JOHNSON SHEPARD.

Married—Simplicity Marked the Ceremony Performed at Tarrytown

TARRYTOWN-ON-THE-HUDSON, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Miss Helen Miller Gould was married at 12.30 p. m. today at Lyndhurst, her country estate, to Finley Johnson Shepard, an American railroad man.

The bride went to an altar half-hidden by roses, trailing asparagus ferns and great banks of palms, on the arm of her brother, George J. Gould, who gave her in marriage. An orchestra, screened by masses of flowers in the music room, played the Lohengrin wedding march, while the Rev. Daniel Russell, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Helen and Dorothy Gould, nieces of Miss Gould, stood with her. Garbed in pale pink satin, they acted as flower girls and were her only attendants. Louis J. Shepard, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Bride Wore Diamond Pendant

A rope of exquisite pearls, said to have once adorned the neck of the imperial Catherine, empress of France, in pear-shaped diamond pendant, the bridegroom's gift, were the only jewelry worn by the bride. The pearls were a bequest from Miss Gould's mother.

The wedding gown was of duchess ivory satin with a sweeping train three and a half yards long, trimmed with duchess and rose point lace and with seed pearl embroidery. The lace and veil were the gifts of the Duchess De Talleyrand, formerly Miss Anna Gould, the bride's sister. The veil was held by a spray of orange blossoms, and swept in flowing lines to the end of the long train.

Orange blossoms also caught up the lace at the sides of the skirt. The

TURKS DECIDE TO SURRENDER FORTRESS TO THE BULGARIANS

Grand Council Decided in Favor of Accepting Peace Proposals of the European Powers

VIENNA, Austria, Jan. 22.—Turkey has decided to surrender Adrianople to the Bulgarians, according to a semi-official telegram from Constantinople through an Austrian source.

POWERS ADVISED TURKEY TO CONSENT TO CESSION OF ADRIANOPOLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 22.—The grand council of the Ottoman empire decided today in favor of accepting the proposals put forward by the European powers for the purpose of bringing about the conclusion of peace.

The note handed to the porte on Jan. 17 by the European ambassadors at Constantinople called the attention of the Ottoman government to "the grave responsibility it would assume if by resistance to their counsels it should prevent the re-establishment of peace, and it would have only itself to blame if the prolongation of the war has as a consequence to put in question the fate of the capital and perhaps to extend hostilities to the Atlantic provinces of the empire."

The document continued that in that case the Turkish government could not count on the success of the effects of the powers to preserve it from the dangers against which they had already warned it and which they once more warned it to avoid.

The powers then called the attention of the Ottoman government to the fact that after the conclusion of peace it would have need of the moral and material support of the powers to repair the evils of the war, to consolidate its position at Constantinople and to develop its vast Asiatic territories. The note pointed out that the Turkish government could count on the efficacy of the benevolent support of the powers only so long as it deferred to their counsel inspired by the general interests of Europe and Turkey.

The powers then advised Turkey to consent to the cession of Adrianople and to leave to them the fate of the Aegean islands.

HEAVY LOSSES BY TURKS IN NAVAL BATTLE WITH GREEKS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 22.—The Turkish losses in the naval battle with the Greek fleet off the Dardanelles on Jan. 18 totaled four officers and 36 men killed while 164 others were wounded.

In the course of the fight a Greek shell exploded inside one of the turrets of the battleship Torgut Reis, killing and wounding every Turk in it and disabling both of the 11 inch guns.

PRISONS OF HUNGARIAN CITY OVERCROWDED—TRIAL BY JULY SUSPENDED

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The prisons of the Hungarian city of Szeged are overcrowded with Serbian agitators and the law courts there are overwhelmed with work, says a news agency despatch from Vienna.

Trial by jury has been suspended by the government in several places in Hungary owing to the fact that the majority of the jurors are Serbians and invariably acquit their fellow countrymen.

TWO WAGONS COLLIDED

Accident in Decatur St.

---No One Injured

Two wagons collided in Decatur street this morning and the result might have been serious had it not been for the fact that one of the drivers was able to manage his horse. The only damage done fortunately was a little scratching of the paint on both wagons.

One was a wagon of A. L. Brooks & Co. and another was a wagon owned by Mussey, the laundry man. Both wagons were being driven into the narrow street in opposite directions, and when they reached a spot near the corner of Merrimack street, the front wheels of both wagons became locked. Mussey's horse is a high spirited animal and becoming frightened it started cutting figures around, when the driver pulled on the reins and managed to back it out of the street. The horse then became nervous and bolted but was stopped before any damage was done. This is the second time for Brooks & Co.'s wagon to get caught in that narrow street.

EXCITEMENT IN MERRIMACK SQ.

Horses on Wild Dash Stopped by Officer Dave Petrie

There was considerable excitement around Merrimack square this afternoon, when a large two-horse truck owned by the Boot mill and loaded with several tons of waste bales, came dashing through the square at a very fast rate of speed. The horses had run away and were going very fast, followed by the driver who had been thrown off, but despite that fact was holding on to the reins and doing all he could to bring his horses to a stop. There were many narrow escapes as there were several people in the vicinity at the time, but the closest call was certainly that of Milo Hale, who was seated in an automobile in Merrimack street, when the horses came dashing by between an electric car and the machine. Had it not been for Patrolman David Petrie who jumped at one of the horse's heads, a collision would surely have taken place.

The horses hitched to a heavy truck loaded with 19 bales of waste, were being driven up Bridge street by Francis Kennedy of 71 Bond street shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon, when one of the animals becoming suddenly frightened started at breakneck speed toward Merrimack street. The other naturally followed and soon the horses had it their own way, for the driver was thrown to the ground, but fortunately escaped without injury and clinging to the reins. The pair of heavy horses increased their speed and turned the corner of Bridge and Merrimack streets on the gallop. The driver, however, managed to drive the frightened animals alongside of a Broadway car at the square without touching the latter, but the sudden turn of the truck upset the load of bales and nine of them rolled into the street. People were shouting to the horses to stop and to the driver to get on the reins, but the shouts had no effect either on the man or horses and the race was kept up.

When the horses reached a spot opposite Central street, Patrolman David Petrie, at the risk of being injured, jumped at the head of one of the animals and in so doing swung the pair to the left, thus avoiding a collision with an automobile of the Lowell Auto Co., in which was seated Milo Hale. The horses kept on for some 25 yards, but were finally brought to a full stop by the stalwart patrolman, who was later showered with congratulations by the many who witnessed the feat. Mr. Kennedy, the driver, was also highly complimented for holding on to the reins, for had it not been for him and Patrolman Petrie some fatal accident might have occurred. Fortunately there was no damage done. The bales of waste left in the street were later taken up and removed to the mill.

MR. AND MRS. GREGOIRE UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

Had a Narrow Escape From Injury To Have Eminent Orator From Chicago

Between Fall River and Boston—Window Smashed in Most Peculiar Manner

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Gregoire of this city had a narrow escape from serious, if not fatal, injury on a train between Fall River and Boston, yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Gregoire were returning from a business trip to New York. The train was going at a rapid rate of speed when the accident, which is somewhat of a mystery, occurred. They were occupying end seats. Mrs. Gregoire on one side of the car and Mr. Gregoire on the other. Other passengers were seated between them. A sudden and thundering noise brought them all to their feet. It seemed for a moment as if the car had left the rails but that was only a momentary delusion. The story is best told in Mr. Gregoire's own words: "We were both occupying end seats and were reading when a noise like the report of cannon broke upon our ears. It seemed to come from the direction of the rear of the train. I had happened to notice a young man entering there a little time before and the first thought that occurred to me was that he had done something desperate, that he either shot himself or leaped from the window."

"I went to the toilet door and attempted to open it and found that there was something pressing against it. I pressed it open far enough to see broken glass and woodwork and was satisfied that no human hand had performed the work of destruction. The conductor was at my side in a few minutes and we finally succeeded in opening the door. The room was a wreck. The window had been smashed in and glass from the window had pierced the walls. The conductor and his assistant started an investigation but could not ascertain the cause of the trouble."

"The brakeman on the car ahead said that he had heard a loud noise under his car a few minutes before and was about to give the signal to stop when the noise ceased. They finally decided it must have been something that the wheels of the car tipped, perhaps a long strip of iron or something of that nature, and tipping or whipping with terrific force it struck the window. That was the nearest they got to the solution of it. If the unknown thing had struck any other window in the car many of us in the car might not have lived to tell the tale. Mrs. Gregoire was seated at the next window, perhaps not more than ten feet away, and had the crash occurred at that window she probably would have been killed and the flying glass and wood would undoubtedly have done serious injury to myself and others. I was present when the car was examined in Boston but no definite conclusion was arrived at by the trainmen as to the cause of the accident."

SIX GOVERNORS TO MEET

And Discuss Critical
Railroad Situation

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Governors of the six New England states will meet in conference at the state of Gov. Foss Saturday to discuss the critical railroad situation.

Every phase of the recent transportation developments will be gone over by the chief executives from the viewpoints of every section of New England.

The conference is a direct outgrowth of the abandonment of the Southern New England construction work by the Grand Trunk and will concern itself largely with the charges that the failure of the company to continue its efforts to enter Boston and Providence was due to an agreement with the New Haven system.

It is hoped, however, to extend the scope of the conference to the entire field of railroads which have arisen against the New Haven management since the taking over of control of the Boston & Maine road by the former company.

New Hampshire's rate war, which has been the subject of investigation by the public service commission of that state for the last two years, will be outlined by Gov. Samuel D. Parker. Rhode Island's concern over the holding of the Grand Trunk project will be voiced by Gov. Aram J. Pothier. The New Haven's conduct of the transportation business in Connecticut will be discussed by Gov. Stephen D. Baldwin of that state, and the Boston & Maine's service under the new management in Maine and Vermont will be described by Governor William T. Haines and Allen M. Fletcher.

Gov. Foss visited Providence a few days ago and conferred with Gov. Pothier. He then announced that he would get in touch with the other New England governors, but has since refused to make public the details of the proposed conference.

It was learned yesterday that invitations have already been sent to the governors for a conference in this city on Saturday, and that they have been accepted in each case.

SCHLICHTEN CONFESSES

Accused of Arson, He Offers to Tell Dist. Atty. Whitman All He Knows of Incendiarism

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Competition has been the result of the New York city grand jury, which has indicted several property owners and insurance adjusters, alleged to be members of the so-called "arson trust," charged yesterday that a large group of independent operators was responsible for nearly as many fires as the "trust" itself. Isidor Stern, Izzy Faltus, who has been the chief source of information regarding recent incendiarism here, promised yesterday to give the district attorney the names of the principal "independents."

Abraham Schlichter, one of those indicted, entered a plea of guilty yesterday. He begged for mercy and promised to tell the names of 50 persons not yet arrested who had allowed members of the "trust" to set fires in their buildings and received part of the proceeds.

With the grand jury, the district attorney and the fire commissioner at the heels of the firebugs, the number of incendiary fires kindled in the city has fallen from 81 during the week of Jan. 15-18, 1912, to 37 during the corresponding week this year, according to figures made public by the fire commissioner yesterday.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder troubles compel you to pass water often during the day and get up many times during the night.

Unhealthy kidneys cause backache, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes you may have a yellow complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and lose flesh. If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the very worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming incidence and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the least recognized by patients and physicians, who usually content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the third disease constantly undermines the system.

If you feel that your kidneys are the cause of your ailment or any other condition, begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney medicine. It will purify the blood, cleanse the system and make you feel like a new man. It is the only medicine that will help you.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can get the regular city and mail order bottles of Swamp-Root. Don't waste any more time. Get it now. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is sold by all druggists. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 589, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

Sample Bottle Sent Free.

EDITORIAL NOTICE.—To prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root, we have sent a sample bottle of this great kidney medicine to every person who writes to us. The bottle is sent free of charge, and we will send you a full bottle of Swamp-Root if you will send us a letter stating that you are convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 589, Binghamton, N. Y. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

Y. W. C. A. AVIATORS

Will Fly in Last Race
Saturday

The rival aviators at the Y. W. C. A. are very active these days in their efforts to break all known altitude records. The Curtiss Boys have a good lead in the race so far, but the Wrights are not going to let the favor their prospects and have organized their invasion of working harder than ever to defeat their sister aviators. This is the last week of the race, and they have a big handicap to overcome, but they are confident that at the final rally and aviation social last Saturday evening their side will be declared the victors. In order to facilitate the business management of the affair, the membership fee must accompany all reports.

The True Blue club will hold its regular meeting in the club room of the Y. W. C. A. tonight at 7:30. The affair will be the annual doll party for the children, when the dolls dressed by the True Blue girls will be distributed.

The Y. W. C. A. basketball team with its supporters will go to Haverhill tonight on the 5:17 train, to play the rival team there.

A service of special interest is planned for Sunday at 1 p. m., under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Russell. A musical program will be furnished by Miss Susan C. Griffin, soprano; Mrs. Elizabeth Russell, alto; Mr. Harry Russell, tenor; and Mr. John Mott, bass. Miss Kathleen Wright, a violinist of exceptional ability, will play, and Miss Ola Sargent will be pianist. A short address will be given.

Dancing Party in Lincoln Hall Last Night

The well known club of "Aviation Girls" held their first annual dancing party in Lincoln hall last night under favorable conditions and from the large attendance which the affair enjoyed, it was an easy matter for one to judge as to the popularity of this organization. The musical orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

STOLEN AUTO RECOVERED

Machine Taken From Haverhill Is Located in Woods Near Atkinson,
N. H., Station

HAVERTHILL, Jan. 22.—The police last night recovered the automobile recently stolen from the home of Frank L. Ball, which was stolen Monday night on Summer street. The machine was found in the woods near the Atkinson, N. H., station by Edward Woolworth.

Nothing was missing from the automobile, which was slightly damaged, and the police theory is that the thieves, after finding that there were no inner tubes or tires that could be taken, abandoned the machine.

BREAKS A GOLD,
OPENS NOSTRILS.

Pape's Cold Compound Cures Colds and Grippe in a Few Hours—
Contains No Quinine

The most severe cold will be broken, and all grippe misery ended after taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel all the disagreeable symptoms leaving after the very first dose.

The most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism, pain and other distressing symptoms.

Take this wonderful compound as directed with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—contains no quinine—keeps in every home—accept no substitute. Tastes nice—acts gently.

"JIM" WALKER PRESIDENT

Lowell Man Heads Firemen's League

Jan. H. Walker of this city was elected president of the New England States Veterans Firemen's league yesterday.

PRESIDENT JAMES H. WALKER

Today. At the annual meeting of the league which followed a dinner at the Revere house, Boston. Other officers elected are:

Vice-presidents: Capt. George Hunt of Providence, Chief Patrick Manning of Amesbury, Henry J. Eaton of Hartford, David W. Steele of Portland, Horace W. Gray of Portsmouth, secretary, William H. Hathaway of Gloucester, treasurer, George A. Sanford of Boston.

Secretary Hathaway, whose retirement was expected, was presented a silver vase filled with greenbacks as a testimonial from the league, but was induced to reconsider his determination and was re-elected for another year, his 20th successive term.

The league appointed a committee to arrange for the August muster with several assurances from delegates that invitations would be extended and accepted an invitation from Providence to hold the May meeting in that city.

Veteran Firemen Met

The members of the Butler Veteran Firemen's association of this city enjoyed a bounteous supper and entertainment last night in their rooms at the corner of William and Fletcher streets. There was a goodly attendance and a general good time was the order of the evening.

Among the speakers were several prominent men including His Honor James E. O'Donnell, Commissioner Lawrence Cummings and E. S. Hosmer, chief of the Lowell fire department.

LAWRENCE ADOPTS STAMP

Bears the Inscription, "One God, One Country, One Flag"—John F. Alter Takes Prize

LAWRENCE, Jan. 22.—John F. Alter has been awarded the prize of $50, offered by the Citizens' association, for the best design of a city stamp to be used in the "Boston Lawrence" movement, which was inaugurated last fall. The judges, Albert E. Huntress, Charles T. Schuler and ex-Alderman Fred H. Eaton, announced their decision yesterday. There were 155 designs submitted. The accepted design bears the inscription, "One God, One Country, One Flag."

OFFICER BADLY BURNED

Policeman Confined to Worcester Victim of Acid While Investigating in a Vacant Store

WORCESTER, Jan. 22.—Finding the rear door of a vacant store near the corner of Main and Pearl streets open last night, Patrolman John Conlin entered the building to make sure that nobody had forced a entrance.

While investigating, he discovered a bottle on a shelf over the store entrance. Thinking that it contained nitroglycerine, he reached up for the bottle, which tipped over, emptying the contents over the officer.

Blinded by the fumes of the acid, for the bottle proved to contain a solution of nitric acid, the officer staggered into the street. He was attended by Dr. Richard J. Shumacher, after which he was taken to his bed and allowed to go home. Dr. Shumacher reported that the officer's burns are of a serious nature, as some of the acid entered his left arm. The burns were so severe that there were also scars about the mouth, left cheek and neck.

TRAVELS 113,659 MILES

Taft Did Some Riding in Four Years

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—When President Taft stepped down from his private car on his recent return from New Haven the total mileage of the travels during his four years in the White House reached 113,659—amounting to having taken him four and one-half times around the world, or an average of about 75 miles for every day he has been president. The total is exclusive of the hundreds of miles the president has traveled by motor in every part of the country; his trips through cities and his tours about Washington and in the vicinity of Beverly.

Including the three short journeys to his home before March 4 Mr. Taft will have traveled during his term about 125,000 miles or five times the distance around the earth at the equator. Mr. Taft has made about 25,000 miles of the total on his two "swings around the circle." He has visited every state in the union with the exception of Oklahoma and North Dakota and has stood as near the four corners of the country as it is possible for a man to get.

Congress gave the president $25,000 a year for traveling expenses and Mr. Taft has used that every year he has been in office. This year's appropriation probably will not be an exception. His long trips last fall reduced the $25,000 fund and if congress wishes President-elect Wilson to see the country early in his administration it probably will be necessary to place an emergency fund at his disposal.

At the end of last year's long trip, Secretary Hilges estimated that the president on that journey had been seen by more than 5,000,000 persons. If these figures were applied to the remainder of his journeys Mr. Taft must have appeared before almost 25,000,000 of the nation's population. He has delivered speeches in every nook of the country and on the same basis of figuring probably has delivered close to 1000 addresses, long and short.

FIREMEN TRIED

Two Easthampton Men Accused of Assaulting W. W. Hinckley and Arer Drake, Williston Students

NORTHAMPTON, Jan. 22.—Wilfred

firemen, were tried in district court yesterday on a charge of assaulting Willock W. Hinckley and Arer Drake of Brockton, students at Williston Seminary. Among the injuries Hinckley sustained was a broken nose.

The fire department responded to an alarm, but was unable to locate the fire, and when the firemen came to a crowd there were such cries, it was said, as "Light a match and find the fire," "Save the child" and "Brave firemen." It was claimed the two firemen left their apparatus and attacked the two students, striking them with their fists and their whips. It was said that they were the ones who raised these cries. The case was continued for arguments and decision.

THE BILLERICA BOARD OF TRADE

THE BILLERICA TOWN HALL IN WHICH MEETING WAS HELD.

Offers Prize of $1000 in Corn Growing Contest—Efforts to Boom the Town

The regular meeting of the Billerica board of trade was held in the town hall last night and was attended by a very large gathering. Rev. Charles H. Williams, president, opened the meeting and made a short address of welcome, after which the business of the evening was taken up.

A motion was made and carried to present a part of an article at the next town meeting dealing with the carrying and the using of firearms by persons under the age of eighteen years.

An act, embodied in the resolve of the legislature of 1912, restricting the erection of undesirable buildings was discussed and it was voted to bring the matter before the next town meeting.

A committee was appointed to see if better car service cannot be secured for the town of Billerica. Many instances were brought up in which the board thought the service could be improved.

Corn Growing Contest

The next topic for discussion was the proposition of Mr. O'Sullivan, chairman, regarding a "corn show" on which a committee was appointed some time ago. The Billerica board of trade and the Billerica grange are to unite and hold a corn contest and show. A prize of $1000 and several other prizes are to be offered to the parties raising the best crops of corn on an acre of land.

It is expected that a record crop of corn will be grown in the town of Billerica and if this is so it will mean a larger demand for Billerica corn.

The committee representing the Billerica board of trade is composed of the following: Chairman, Gustave Thompson; Harlan Spiller, Herbert Hunsner, Stephen Parker and Edward P. Dickinson. Those representing the grange are: Charles Wright, Frank Fitzgerald, Colburn S. Smith, Charles Moore, Mrs. Hunsner, Mrs. Edward Dickinson and Mrs. Charles Wright.

The Billerica board of trade has been working actively on this project for some time, although it has just been made public.

The following letters have been received from Mr. Hurd, director of the extension service of the Massachusetts Agricultural college:

Mr. Thompson, Chairman of the Committee:

"Your letter of the 13th is at hand, and I note that the date you have arranged for your corn evening in connection with the grange is April 24. As I have been secretary of both the New England Corn Exposition and the Massachusetts Corn Show and perhaps can help you in organizing your work, I will try to come myself at that time. I will give you a talk on 'Corn and Corn Growing' for half or three quarters of an hour, and then I would like to have a general discussion of the subject which you have in mind. I will be glad of any information that you have from time to time."

In another letter Mr. Hurd took occasion to say: "We should be glad to co-operate with you in any possible way. I have recently had several communications from different sources in Billerica which show that you people there are active, and when these activities are carried on by means of local initiative we are always glad to do more than we could otherwise feel it wise to attempt."

Mr. Hurd will visit Billerica Friday and speak upon the subject of corn growing.

The following was taken from a Maynard paper and will be interesting to residents of Billerica, as Mr. Hull was a resident here for several years: The marriage of Miss Irene C. Raimville, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Raimville, and Harry W. Hull, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hayward, took place in St. Bridget's church yesterday, Rev. J. W. Browne officiating. Mrs. Josephine Stukert, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Columbus Raimville, brother of the bride, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull left shortly after the wedding for their tour and after their return will reside in Brookline, where they have a furnished house. Mr. Hull is an employee of the Boston Elevated railroad, and was formerly a partner in the U. S. service. The bride is a regular Maynard girl and leaves with the best wishes of a host of friends.

Mr. Arthur Gannon is confined to his house on Wilson street by illness.

HOUNDS PICKED UP TRAIL

Of Missing Girl—May be in River

PAWTUCKET, Jan. 22.—Bloodhounds were used yesterday afternoon for the first time in this section in the endeavor to locate Amanda Souel, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Souel, of 14 Carrington street, Old Village, so-called, Lonsdale, in the town of Cumberland.

The girl disappeared one week ago yesterday afternoon, and one of the stories was that she was seen at a gateway on the Mendon road with a man, with whom she was talking.

Yesterday afternoon a bloodhound belonging to George M. Miller of this city, an untrained dog, and a pair of hounds belonging to John H. Lane, also of this city, which have been placed at the disposal of the police department, were introduced in the search.

Given the scent from a hood the girl had worn, the dogs took a course from the bars where the girl had been reported to the Blackstone river, then came to a stop. The untrained dog, however, turned in an easterly direction and disappeared in the woods, and the men in charge could not keep up with him.

The dogs were procured by Chief Burdette of the Cumberland police. Town Clerk David Johnston of Lincoln and Policeman John Glassey of the same town, and were handled by Frank McFarlane and George Goff.

The experiment leads to the belief that the body of the girl is in the river. A fortune teller has told the mother the same story.

Gov. Hesse Raps Papers

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 22.—Cole L. Hesse was inaugurated for the second time as governor of South Carolina yesterday. In his inaugural address, the governor severely arraigned the newspapers of the state and advocated the abolition of football at the State university.

OUR SEMI-ANNUAL

Twenty-Five Cent Sale

STARTS TOMORROW MORNING AT 9 O'CLOCK

AND WILL CONTINUE FOR FOUR DAYS—THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY AND MONDAY WE WILL GIVE YOU 50c TO 75c VALUES FOR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Twice a year we hold this sale—in January and July. The sale held six months ago, proved one of the most successful sales we've ever held, not only in dollars and cents, but in the number of sales and big number of people brought into our store. When we say that we have planned this sale to beat our last one in every possible way, you can be sure we've got the bargains to make this statement good.

Every department is represented in this 25 Cent Sale, so that no matter what you need you are almost certain of securing it here tomorrow for a "QUARTER."

The makers and the wholesalers co-operated with us—some going so far as to sell things at a loss, and all of them cut prices down to the lowest possible limit; while on our part, we've put profit altogether out of the question. It will be a great sale.

HOME RULE IS ASSURED

English Strike Leader at U. I. L. Meeting

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Home rule for Ireland is an accomplished fact. Ninety per cent of the liberal party in England favor home rule for Ireland, said Harry Phillips, former deputy mayor of West Ham, London, and one of the leaders in the recent English dock strike, at a meeting of the United Irish League, held in the American house last night, to celebrate the passage of the new home rule bill through the house of commons.

Mr. Phillips expressed himself strongly in favor of home rule for Ireland, and stated that Ireland would soon have its freedom. He said that the house of commons passed the bill on Jan. 18, and that the house of lords will pass it on Jan. 21. He said that the bill will give Ireland complete independence, and that the Irish people will be able to govern themselves.

HIT BY AUTO

C. G. Nordberg Injured in Worcester and Chauffeur Arthur Waugh Is Arrested

WORCESTER, Jan. 22.—Carl G. Nordberg, aged 52, of Middlesex street, was seriously injured last night, when he was struck by an auto, driven by Arthur Waugh, aged 23, chauffeur for Rufus S. Dixon, a local oil and paint dealer.

Nordberg, according to the report filed at the police station by Dr. Richard J. Shanahan, who attended the injured man, was crossing Front street, near the corner of Church street, when the auto knocked him down. Officers O'Brien and Conlin arrested Waugh on a charge of drunkenness.

Nordberg was rushed to the City hospital, where it was reported that his injuries include a dislocation of the hip, a fracture of the right leg, two severe lacerations of the scalp, contusions on the right hip and probable internal injuries.

Several Society Meetings Held Last Night

The principal business to be transacted at the regular meeting of S. H. Hildebrand, Knights of Pythias, last night, was the installation of officers. This was accomplished by D. G. C. Clifford E. Jones of Arcadia lodge of West Somerville, accompanied by P. C. Albert S. Shaw as G. V. C. John Applehaus as G. P. Herbert R. Waite as G. K. R. S. Walter B. Mott as G. M. A. Roy Hamilton as G. M. A. members of his suite. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: G. C. Frank C. J. Prescott; V. C. Charles F. Washington; P. Archie D. Bumps; M. W. John H. Parley; K. R. S. Robert J. Fullerton; M. P. Ezra E. Mansur; M. L. Alvan J. Joy; M. A. George O. Titcomb; L. O. Alfred C. Dugdale; and O. G. Charles H. Jordan.

P. C. Joy and P. C. Mansur are the chief officers of this branch of the organization, the former having been installed last night for the 21st time, and the latter for the 25th time. Remarks were made last night by all the newly elected officers and grand officers. P. C. A. Rutherford, Jelly and Fisher of Lowell, C. C. Hildreth of Waverley, L. C. Charles Jones and Knight Porter of Chelmsford-Middlesex lodge were present as visitors and added their mite to the event of the evening. P. C. Joy, Mansur, Clark and Kirtledge, V. C. Hildreth and P. C. Sutherland also spoke.

Brother Langley, who was elected as G. C. of the lodge, resigned his office, as he is about to leave the city. A vote wishing him Godspeed was passed by the lodge.

Luncheon was served to all present by the entertainment committee at the close of the meeting.

Lowell Aerle

The Lowell Aerle of Eagles held a class initiation last night in its hall. A large gathering of the members was present. Refreshments and an entertainment followed the business meeting, and this was greatly enjoyed by all.

Dekey Ross Circle

Members of Dekey Ross circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., met in regular session last night and transacted a number of routine matters of importance. As usual a bounteous supper preceded the business meeting, and this was under the direction of Sister Sarah McKinley, assisted by Sisters Richardson and Washburn.

Loyal Victoria Lodge

The Loyal Victoria lodge of Odd Ladies held its regular meeting in Graceton hall last night and transacted considerable routine business. A program of music and literature followed the business session, and all of the numbers were highly pleasing and applauded.

Garfield Colony

The members of Garfield colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, met last night with a large attendance. The installation of Thomas J. Fitch as lieutenant governor and Henry O. Nichols as sergeant-at-arms was accomplished by Supreme Governor Martin.

Supreme Governor Bradstreet of Boston is expected to be present at the next meeting of the organization which is to be a union meeting.

Court Samuel de Champlain

The regular meeting of Court Samuel de Champlain, No. 40, Foresters of America, took place last evening in Elks hall on Middle street, and Chief Ranger Albert E. Sabourin was the presiding officer, and there were many out of town guests. Much routine business was gone through during the course of the meeting.

FINES NOT SUFFICIENT

Surveyor Graves Advocates Jail Sentences for Those Who Break the Optum Laws

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—That the courts rarely mete out the proper punishment to offenders of the optum laws who are brought to trial was the declaration made by Edwin G. Graves, surveyor of the port of Boston, at the monthly dinner of the American Publicly Association at the American House yesterday. "Most frequently," he declared, "ordinary offenders are fined. This is the worst thing that could happen, for if sent to prison they might be broken of the habit. When they pay a fine they go out and get more optum."

Grace Church Gives Him $200 More

A largely attended meeting of the Grace Universalist church society was held last evening, and the members listened to interesting annual reports, which were followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Forrest Martin and the report of Treasurer Woodward showed that the church had received $200 more than at any time in 19 years, and that Sunday collections had averaged double this of the past 19 years, indicating a substantially increased membership of church and Sunday school.

Reports from the Ladies' Bazaar club showed contributions of $530 for the year, and the energetic Finance club submitted a statement to the effect that it had paid out bills amounting to $229 for same year.

During the year the church has received from bequests the sum of $1509 and the permanent debt has been reduced $2275. Costs equate to the interior of the church, including decorating and connecting the church accounts have been made, and of a total expense of $2290 for this work, about one-third has been paid. The church is much better off financially than it has been for years.

As an appreciation of the pastor's work, Rev. C. R. Skinner, it was voted to increase his salary $200 a year.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Treasurer, Charles N. Woodward; clerk and collector, Newell P. Putnam; assessor for three years, Herbert C. Taff; H. C. Charles H. Hanson, Perry D. Thompson.

TO LEARN STEEL BUSINESS

Deacon Philippe, Formerly Pirate Star Pitcher, Goes to Work on "Night Shift" in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—Charles (Deacon) Philippe has gone to work in the Tarentum steel works. He is one of the "night shift," carries a bucket and eats out of it during the half-hour allowed for supper.

The Deacon, at 41, has decided to learn the business "from the ground up." He was out of a job since the United States league blew up last summer. It is less than 10 years since Philippe and Sam Leever pitched the Pirates into a pennant and Philippe alone took the games of the World's series which the Boston team won.

Woman Burned to Death

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Anna Enroch was burned to death and six persons were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the plant of the T. G. Richardson Manufacturing company on the West Side yesterday. Several hundred girls were at work in the building and a dozen or more escaped by jumping from windows.

Cambridge Electric Light Employees Strike

Strikers Returned on Condition That They be Given 8 Hours and That Question of Wages to be Arbitrated

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—A walk-out of engineers, firemen, steamfitters and others employed by the Cambridge Electric light company left the streets of that city in darkness until 1:15 last night.

The men wanted an eight-hour day and a revision of the wage scale. After Mayor J. Edward Barry had conferred with President J. Q. Bennett and General Manager W. E. Holmes, these demands were agreed to in part.

The men came back on condition that they will be given an eight-hour day, and the question of wages is to be arbitrated at a meeting to be held next Tuesday.

The town of Belmont, which secures electricity for street lighting from the Cambridge Electric Light Company, was not affected, inasmuch as the bright moonlight rendered any other illumination entirely unnecessary, according to the town fathers.

The firemen, others, steamfitters and engineers employed at the plant of the company at the corner of Western avenue and Blackstone street, have been dissatisfied for some time.

A short time ago Agent Joseph Xan conferred with Mr. Holmes and laid the demands of the men before him. The general manager stated that he would look into the matter.

Yesterday afternoon, while the directors of the company were holding a meeting, it was learned that the men were also holding a meeting at the union headquarters in Boston. Investigation disclosed that fires had been drawn and steam allowed to run down, and that the majority of the men had left the plant.

This was at 4:30, but some of the older men not affiliated with the union, managed to keep enough steam to furnish power for the shops and houses. It was impossible to light the streets, however, and when darkness came on not a light glimmered in Cambridge thoroughfares.

As soon as Mayor Barry learned what had taken place, he went to the plant with City Electrician Timothy C. O'Brien and conferred with President Bennett and Mr. Holmes. The officials of the company felt that they should have been given a chance to investigate the demands before a strike was called.

Mayor Barry stated that the city must have lights, and that without them there was danger. He said that the fire alarm service would also be crippled.

Mr. Holmes then got in touch with the men, who agreed to come back upon being assured that they would be given an eight-hour day, and that the question of wages would be arbitrated.

TO ACCEPT "MRS." DEGREE

9 Wellesley Seniors Are Brides-to-be

WELLESLEY, Jan. 22.—Nine senior girls in Wellesley college who have only a few more months to study for their Bachelor of Arts degrees are already candidates for degrees of "Mrs." it was announced here last night. Two of them will be married soon after being graduated next June; the others will wait.

Miss Rachel E. Burbank of East Milton announced her engagement to Dr. Royal Benson of New York. They will be married next June. Miss Burbank told her classmates, and travel abroad before getting in New York. Miss Carol S. Prentice, who entered Wellesley from New York, announced her engagement to Otto Williams, an Amherst graduate, now in business in New York.

Miss Edna Scope of Seymour, Ind., followed with the announcement of her engagement to Frederick Shepard, Jr., of Boston, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology last June. By a dinner dance here Miss Dorothy McDowell, who entered Wellesley from New Rochelle, N. Y., announced her engagement to Randall Greener of Washington, D. C. Mr. Greener was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology last June and is now an instructor there. He plans to go into business in Washington after his marriage to Miss McDowell.

Another engagement announced was that of Miss Helen E. Richardson of Brighton and Norman Southworth of Boston, a graduate of Harvard in 1911. Miss Edith Montgomery of Rochester, N. H., announced her engagement to George Simmons, a graduate of Williams last June and now in business in Baltimore, Md.

Miss Alice Merrill's engagement to George W. Lewis, Harvard '10, was followed by announcement of that of Miss Edith Besse to Edwin P. Holmes, who also was graduated from Harvard in 1910. Both are residents of Boston. The last engagement made public was that of Miss Pauline Miller and Arthur D. Seely of Meriden, Conn. Miss Miller, entered college from Meriden.

ASKS PAY FOR IDLENESS

Man Out of Work Without Cause

At a meeting of the board of health held yesterday afternoon an applicant appeared before the board seeking pay for idleness due to a doctor's alleged mistake in diagnosing a case in his family as that of scarlet fever. He said he had lost five days' pay on account of the error. The board gave out the information that the department posted a scarlet fever card on claimant's house, only after being informed by the attending physician that scarlet fever existed. Later, a contrary diagnosis was made. Under the law the board of health is authorized to compensate a family for loss of pay incurred by quarantining where scarlet fever exists, but doubt was expressed as to the board's power to compensate where fever did not exist. The matter was taken under consideration.

Action on technical violations of the law by two plumbers was postponed.

Mrs. Clifton Beaulieu made application for a permit to maintain an infant's boarding house at 185 Laurel street, and the board gave its approval. John Jacob Rogers, representing the Lowell Day Nursery association, asked that the association be permitted to maintain an infant's boarding house, and the petition was approved.

A communication from Dr. W. A. Johnson was received and read to the effect that in his opinion the Kenyon family at 94 C street are now free from all danger of spreading scarlet fever. It was voted to remove the quarantine on said family.

The board passed upon a number of routine matters of minor importance.

Court Holds That Girl in Hobbles Is Immune

ELGIN, Ill., Jan. 22.—"A girl who wears a hobble skirt, does her hair up in a knot and answers to the title of 'Miss' is too old to be spanked."

This was the decision of Police Magistrate George R. Thompson yesterday morning when Charles Jungheanal was arraigned in his court upon the charges of his daughter that she had been whipped.

Charles Jungheanal, 13 years old, appeared to prosecute her parent. The court imposed a fine of $1, and Jungheanal confessed that he had acted hastily when he found his daughter spending the night at a neighbor's instead of coming home.

BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS.

IF CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, HEAD-ACHY, STOMACH SOUR, TAKE A CASCARET

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—no good—never gripe or sicken.

TO GET MORE PAY

sons being given. Mr. Thompson seconded Mr. Campbell's motion.

Mr. Farrington wanted information as to when Mrs. Strout was removed, but the secretary could find nothing in the records relative to her removal. Mr. Farrington said: "I have been a member of this board for a number of years, and I know of no record of Mrs. Strout being elected. I did not know she was there and do not know why she was removed. If she was there."

Inasmuch as there was no record of Mrs. Strout's removal, Mr. Campbell gave as his opinion that she was entitled to pay for the full term. He thought that when a sub-committee removed an employee he was expected to report back to the board.

Dr. Bagley moved an amendment, instructing the secretary to look back over the records, and see if Mrs. Strout or Miss Morrison were recorded as having been elected. It was so voted.

Letter From Teachers

A letter from five teachers protesting against being deprived of their pay when under quarantine by order of the board of health, was taken up, having come over from the preceding meeting. Superintendent Molloy said their case was identical with others, and in view of the fact that the quarantine was by order of the board of health and not a matter under the supervision of the committee, it was voted that their request for full pay be not granted.

Better Housing Problem

A letter from Superintendent Dooley of the Industrial school, requesting that the advisory board of the Industrial school be permitted to discuss with the school committee the problem of better housing, was presented, and it was voted to invite that board to be present at the next school committee meeting.

Supt. Dooley also asked for the use of the high school annex hall for the use of his pupils for athletic purposes, and it was voted.

Dr. W. W. Wiggins, an instructor in the Industrial school, gave a letter in which he said that he was engaged to teach day and evening, at a salary of $900 a year, with the promise of an annual advance. He had placed the matter before the sub-committee on the board of 1912, and had been promised that it would be attended to, but it had not been done. He asked that the promised advance be given him.

Mr. Farrington said he was a member of the school board when Mr. Wiggins was elected, and he knew of no such promise on the part of the school board. On his motion, it was voted to refer the matter to the committee on finance, and to request Mr. Wiggins to be present.

Her Rent Delayed

Miss Vinton of the high school asked that she be not deprived of her salary for a period in September, on account of a violation of the rule that teachers shall be present on the first day of the school year. She was abroad and her vessel was delayed by unfavorable weather conditions, and she thought the rule was not meant to apply to such unavoidable cases.

Mr. Molloy explained that in cases of sickness or other causes, caused from the application of this rule, and in this case, as a matter of fact, there was no loss of money to the city involved. On motion of Mr. Thompson it was voted to refer the matter to the committee on finance, to report to the full committee.

School Board Records

The superintendent reported that requests are made to him for permission to examine the records, and he had assumed that they were public records. He wished some expressions from the board.

The members did not think it necessary to take action on the matter, and the chair ruled that the reports of school board business are public records, to be inspected, however, only under proper safeguarding.

The School Rules

Mr. Farrington moved and Dr. Bagley seconded, that inasmuch as according to the opinion of the city solicitor, the board has at present no rules for their guidance in transacting business, that the board adopt the rules of the board of 1912.

Mr. Campbell moved to amend, by excepting section 6 (requiring the consent of two-thirds to change a rule) and adding that the rules shall be adopted with such changes as the committee sees fit to make next year, in its own guidance. Mr. Farrington accepted the amendment and it was so voted without opposition.

Mr. Campbell said he had no official knowledge, but had heard that there is a matter pending at the Highland school and the Franklinville school. He asked that the secretary look up the records of their election.

Mr. Molloy found that March 20, 1912, at a special meeting of the school committee, it was voted to endorse the nomination of J. J. O'Donnell, by the sub-committee, of the Franklinville, Vermont and Highland schools.

Dr. Lambert said that from his knowledge of conditions in former years, that was probably the procedure followed in the election of Mrs. Strout and Miss Morrison.

Position Abolished

Under the head of new business Mr. Campbell moved that the position of assistant supervisor of janitors be abolished, to take effect Saturday of this week. Mr. Thompson seconded the motion.

Dr. Bagley and Mr. Farrington were opposed to the abolition of the office. After considerable discussion it was voted, three to two, to abolish the position to take effect Saturday of this week.

No Executive Sessions

Mr. Farrington then brought up his motion to reconsider the action of the last meeting, amending the rule relating to executive sessions. He asked the secretary if he had consulted the city solicitor in the matter. Mr. Molloy said he could give the substance of what the city solicitor said to him, but did not want to give the substance.

He argued that the school board would have the privilege of going into executive session. There was considerable argument and finally Mr. Campbell said: "We have here the city charter which provides that our meeting shall be public."

It was voted, three to two, not to reconsider.

Their Salaries Raised

Mr. Farrington, chairman of the committee on finance, presented the petition of the elementary grade teachers for an increase of salary. The petition was drawn by a committee from the teachers' organization, and was accompanied by a schedule suggesting the rate of increase.

Mr. Thompson moved, and Dr. Bagley seconded, that an increase be granted, and that the matter be referred to the committee on finance, to report at the next meeting on the amount of increase and the grade of adjustment. It was so voted, without opposition.

The schedule submitted by the teachers' committee, for consideration by the board, is as follows:

For all elementary teachers in Lowell, including the present class of permanent substitutes, when elected from January 1, 1913, we suggest the following schedule:

$700 for fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh years.

The kindergarten teachers, numbering 22, suggest that their maximum be raised $100. Twenty of them have taught over ten years, one five years, one four years.

Secretary Molloy submitted the written opinion of the city solicitor, relative to the matter of requiring a two-thirds vote to change a rule of the school board.

This matter came up at the previous meeting, after the committee had voted two to three, to amend the rule passed by the board of 1912, so as to require a two-thirds vote to change a rule of the school board.

Chapter 6 of the rules of the school committee is as follows: "The consent of (2-3) two-thirds of the school committee shall be requisite for the suspension, removal or amendment of any of these rules."

However, incongruous or impracticable such a rule must appear at first glance, yet it has been established by a former school committee for the year 1907, and in a particular municipal year, and has no blinding force or efficacy upon those subsequently assembled to revise the rules.

It is my opinion that every deliberative body has the right to make its own rules for the government and regulation of the conduct of its members in the particular year for which that body was elected.

The present school committee has a right to make its own rules for its own government, and should not be bound by any rule established before the municipal year that brought the present committee into being.

THIS LOVE SONG BRINGS $10,000

Peculiar Musical Work Aimed to Educate the Voice

The musical extract below is an excerpt of one of the prettiest love songs written since "Silver Threads Among the Gold." For the copyright of this beautiful and melodious song, $10,000 last week. At the price of ten cents per copy one million copies expected to be sold. Here is an extract of the chorus clipped from a copy of the music just received:

Why Did You Make Me Care?

By ALFRED SOLMAN.

Why did you make me care...

Why bring me dreams of love...

Why do you leave me and break my heart?

Why should we meet no more...

Why can't we love as before...

The song is written evidently for the purpose of educating the voice, containing, as it does, nearly thirty different harmonies with no extreme high notes, however, in the entire song. The lyrics are those of a fair sex. The song is in four different keys.

MARRYING A RICH WOMAN

Whitely J. Shepard is one of the most fortunate men in the country. He was married today to Helen Gould, one of the richest women in the United States, not rich in money, but in friends. As it happens, the bride is also the creation of a great fortune, but one does not think of it belonging to her, since she has used it very largely for the benefit of others. She has never been a rich woman as the world makes use of that term. Her work has been among the every-day people of the land, the sailors, the soldiers, the railroad men, the working girls, the very poor of the great cities. Her own life has been modest and sincere. Her dress and deportment in keeping with this manner of living; and her character has been showing giving that subtle, public applause, but the joyous feeling of people in quiet and practical ways.

And note the wonderful array of her wedding gifts: A gold rose bowl from the men of the Atlantic squadron; a silver service from the collected men of the forts in New York harbor; a memorial gift from the railroad Y. M. C. A. men of the country; and many others of the same sort. There have been New York women married within the past three years whose gifts in gold and rare gems, in silver services and imported tapestries, were greater than the ransom of a king. But they were the gifts of the rich alone, and the poor of the land read of them with envy. That there is no enmity shown to Helen Gould, she has won the respect of all Americans, the personal love of thousands of people. She has proven that wealth in the hands of a good woman is like the fabled gift of the fairies of old; it can banish poverty, loneliness, illiteracy, unhappiness.

And who but Helen Gould would have found expression for her happiness in so novel a manner as her dinner to be given to a thousand homeless people at the old Bowery mission to-night? Surely, here is a rare woman; one who, sought many times by the younger sons of European nobility, finally married a self-made American man.

THE COAL PROBLEM

The local coal dealers are quoted as seeing no chance to reduce prices at the present time. In spite of their facilities for buying directly from one of the great companies, which maintains a terminal station in this city, the supply remains curtailed and the public continues to pay an extra toll at $1 per ton. Explanations differ according to the retailer with whom the purchaser talks, so that it is not surprising if the public has a very vague comprehension of what the real situation may be. Financial America, which is well posted on trade matters, had this to say in a recent issue:

A result of the suspension and of the severe weather of last spring, which exhausted the surplus stock of coal, was that the supply was not equal to the demand in the summer and fall. Though the large companies continued to produce, the "independents" received premiums of from 50 cents to $1.50 a ton. A premium was still paid for "independent" coal when the year closed, but prices, low and higher, to normal than they had been in October and November. The close of navigation on the Great Lakes was followed by a concentration of shipments upon the eastern markets, and the outlook now is that the supply of coal will be ample to meet the needs of consumers east and west this winter.

According to this statement, the "trust" magnates have not raised coal $1 a ton, although the independents have made a 50 cent increase; but even the latter have come down to nearly normal prices as the supply has increased. Of course financial America may not be aware of the peculiar situation prevailing here and in a few other cities. But, on the other hand, it is certain that many of the explanations offered for local conditions cannot still prevail, since if they did the entire country would be caught in the grasp of high prices. And it is apparent that retail prices in the east show a considerable latitude at the present time. The power controlling the weather appears to have been on the side of the poor man, at any rate.

REFORMING THE CUSTOMS

Under an act of congress passed last August, a reorganization of the customs service has begun that will prove more far-reaching than any that has taken place since 1789. The leaders of both parties have finally agreed that the time has come to put the service upon a business rather than a political basis, and the efficiency of this action may be appreciated when it is understood that not less than 150 offices, now the gift of the president, and heretofore considered political rewards, will be abolished.

Subjects will now entirely disappear from the official language of the treasury department. The customs districts of a state—there are 13 in Maine alone—will be made one district, with only one collector in general charge. Naval officers will have long been assigned to duty in the districts, but now they will be withdrawn, and a deputy auditor appointed for the same duties. Other changes will occur later when the reports of the special commissions on appraisement, and the methods employed at the port of New York, are made.

It is not surprising that barnacles have grown upon the customs service in the last century. Ports that did a great shipping business a hundred years ago have in many cases lost all their commerce; towns that had a ship building industry can show only the last remnant of the ruined stays. The political appointments alone have remained to show the glory of departed days—and the government has continued to pay his "keep" for other services rendered than those provided by the customs service.

Although last year was considered a very poor year in railroad building, 297 miles of track were laid in 41 states. In any other country this would be considered remarkable construction. North Dakota and Texas were the leaders, a fact due to the rapid development of those states now going on. One need not fear that the country has stopped growing so long as railroad construction is going on virtually in every state.

Some idea of what might have resulted from reciprocity between the United States and Canada is to be gained from the enormous increase in Canadian imports of American cement. Since the 50 per cent reduction in the Canadian tariff went into effect, in four months nearly 800,000 barrels were imported as against 325,000 for a similar period under the old tariff. There is a tremendous market for American goods in Canada with a proper readjustment of tariff schedules.

The naval battle between the Turkish and Greek fleets was the result of the taunt of Turkish women that their forts ought to fire upon the Turkish warships in order to drive them from cover. The Turks fought, but at a perfectly safe distance.

The state of California last year produced 50 million barrels of oil, or one for every resident of the United States. That sounds good, but those who claimed their barrels also paid for them.

After two years business, the postal savings banks of the country are able to show deposits of $30,000,000, with 300,000 depositors. The public appears to have full confidence in the government.

What! The Massachusetts legislature to investigate the election of Brother Weeks to the United States senate? What can Rep. Gordon of Boston possibly mean!

The Boston burglars who dressed like twins probably figured that at least one would escape arrest.

Doctor and Engineer Killed—Several Hurt

BROWNSVILLE JUNCTION, Mo., Jan. 22.—A rear-end collision between trains on the Canadian Pacific railroad at Onawa station last night caused the death of two men and injuries to several others.

One of the men killed was Dr. Daniel W. Hayes of Brownsville, the railroad physician and surgeon, who was returning from attendance on a patient in a backwash town.

The other victim was Fred Randall, also of this town, who was engineer of one of the trains. The names of the injured are not known.

The train on which Dr. Hayes was returning home is believed to have been a passenger train from Greenville Junction.

The message received here said the accident was a rear-end collision, and from this fact railroad employees expressed the opinion that the passenger train probably ran into a freight. The officials of the railroad would give no information on what and it could not be learned on what train Engineer Randall was working. Working trains were sent to Onawa station last night.

Onawa is a small hamlet in the Elkhartville Plantations, about half way between Greenville and Brownsville Junction.

Dr. Hayes is survived by a wife and five children, and two brothers, one of whom is Judge C. W. Hayes of Foxcroft. Randall leaves a wife and three children.

COAL BARGE SINKS

Crew of Massachusetts Taken Off Before She Goes Down Near Southwest Ledge

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 22.—The barge Massachusetts, in tow of the tug Sarah McWilliams and Charles Henry McWilliams, sank off this port at midnight. The barge was one of a tow of five.

The Massachusetts lies in 33 feet of water near Southwest Ledge. She was carrying 55 tons of coal consigned to Providence dealers. The crew was taken off before the barge went down.

AT THE CLUB

Bill strolled into the club to find his pal Joe seated at a small table and absently arranging a pack of playing cards in a game of solitaire. "Hello, Bill," drawled Joe, looking up at the sound of the closing door. "Hello yourself," replied the newcomer, laying his coat and hat upon the billiard table, "been a fine day?" "Great! Sit down and I'll show you how to play pitch," said Joe, reaching out his foot and kicking a chair into position opposite his own for the accommodation of the other.

"You show me how, why my dear fellow, I played that game before you knew one card from another. Deal 'em out."

Joe shuffled the pack carefully to mix up the cards which had been sorted by the solitaire process, and then dealt six pastebords to each. "What's your bid?" he asked.

"Three. Good, is it? I thought so, you will have to go some to beat this hand. The two played on in silence for a time. Then the following:

"Did it ever occur to you what a lot of trouble those pastebord cards have caused, Joe?" inquired Bill. Joe looked up suspiciously for he recognized his companion's mood. "Are you getting ready to spring one of your little sermons on me again?" he asked.

"Oh, no, nothing like that," was the hasty reply, "just something to talk about." Bill remained silent for a moment, gazing out of the window, unheeding the cards before him. Then he coughed, and said: "But just the same, when you stop to think of it a whole lot of homes have been wrecked and a whole lot of hearts broken just through a pack of cards like that one."

Joe sighed and threw the hand which he had been examining. "Go ahead, you big preacher, relieve your mind. I have nothing to say," said Bill, "and you needn't get cross, just because I ask you a question." Five minutes intermission for meditation. Then: "But, Joe, I've known more than one fellow who lost all that he had in life just on account of one first little solitaire game, and he was a promising chap, too. Had plenty of money, a good job and a nice little home. He started in a little game of whist just for fun and some fool suggested that they make a little stake of a penny or two just to add interest to the game. He refused at first but when the others laughed at him, he agreed. Then one of them showed him how to play poker so that he would understand their conversation when they began speaking about four of a kind, full house and other such terms. Then when he learned the game they raised the stake to a dime. This continued until he himself was the one to suggest another raise after he had been a typical bump. The next day he lost a few dollars and they raised it again to give him a chance to get square with the game. He did not get square, though, and before very long had to pawn his watch to pay some of his poker debts. There he was drawing out the story though, only to say that today the fellow hangs around a typical bump. Gamblers whenever he can get a dollar or so together. His wife goes out working in private families when she can get anything to do and their little girl has been sent to a home. He started with a social game such as we were playing."

"That may all be true," said Joe, doubtfully, "but the fellow was playing with worse sharps of course, and he merely emulated the sports. A man wouldn't be led so easily."

"Yes, but he was not the only weak minded person in the world. And they do not all start that way. Only yesterday I read where Judge Knight had some young fellows for shooting craps in the alleys and on sidewalks. There are thousands of such cases and they are not rare right here in Lowell. There are hundreds of men, too, who tell their wives they were at the club when in reality they spent their nights in poker joints. The clubs abound with sociability, but some of the members get the poker habit, which is much worse than the jolly, cheerful fellowship of club life."

For two hours she lay unconscious with her baby girl, Bertha Marion, still clutched tightly in her arms, before a woman neighbor who went to call upon her found her lying in a pool of blood on the floor. The police were notified, but could find no trace of the man, but an all-day search yesterday unearthed a clue upon which they hope soon to make an arrest. The police believe they have located the man and are sure he was known to Mrs. Norton, as he addressed her by her first name. They also are positive he wore the mask to conceal his features, which she would have recognized.

For two hours she lay unconscious with her baby girl, Bertha Marion, still clutched tightly in her arms, before a woman neighbor who went to call upon her found her lying in a pool of blood on the floor.

The police were notified, but could find no trace of the man, but an all-day search yesterday unearthed a clue upon which they hope soon to make an arrest. The police believe they have located the man and are sure he was known to Mrs. Norton, as he addressed her by her first name. They also are positive he wore the mask to conceal his features, which she would have recognized.

PASS DEATH CHAIR BILL

The Vermont Legislators Favor Electrocution

MONTPELIER, Vt., Jan. 22.—Only one more legal hanging will be carried out in Vermont if Gov. Allen M. Fletcher signs a bill passed by both branches of the legislature yesterday. By the provisions of this bill, if it is enacted into law, electrocution will displace hanging as the legal form of death in this state.

Among the arguments introduced to influence the legislature to take this action were the difficulties which attend the execution of a man after years of delay, the expense of the maintenance of the gallows, and the fact that the hanging of Elroy Kent for the murder of a school teacher.

On the latter occasion, the rope broke and the operation had to be gone through twice.

Vermont legislatures for the past few years have indulged in lengthy and, at times, heated discussions on the matter of abolishing capital punishment, and of substituting electrocution for hanging.

The bill passed yesterday will allow one more hanging, as it excepts cases "where sentence has been passed prior to the passage of the bill." Arthur D. Bowditch, convicted of the murder of Miss Mae Leland at Essex Junction last July, is now in solitary confinement in the state prison at Windsor, under sentence to be hanged next Friday, Jan. 24.

His execution, however, will not take place at that time. Under the laws of Vermont no person can be hanged until a legislature has met and finally adjourned since the time of sentence. The present legislature will not adjourn for several weeks.

Bowditch will be replaced by Governor Fletcher in order to conform with the law, according to a statement last night by Attorney General Rufus E. Brown. Attorney General Brown said he would inform the governor that such action is necessary under the law. The probable length of Bowditch's reprieve is not known.

NEW ORLEANS CHILDREN

To be Put Under Scientific Study

Children in the schools of New Orleans are being systematically studied by experts with respect to their capacity for education according to information received at the United States bureau of education. Under the terms of a cooperative agreement between the local school board and Newcomb College of Tulane university, children who are for any reason markedly "exceptional" will be selected by the school authorities and referred for individual examination to the psychological laboratory at Newcomb college, provided the parents give their consent.

A detailed plan of procedure has been devised, in which parent, teacher, sociologist, physician, and psychologist cooperate in examining the children; and a significant feature is the instruction to be given to a number of city teachers and normal-school students in school hygiene and in the psychology of abnormal children by professors in Tulane university.

The school teachers will take the first step in the examination. Following a systematic census of all the children, they will select from their classes those who appear to be backward, or vicious, or in any way "exceptional." The consent of the parent will be obtained, and then the child will apply to the superintendent of public schools for his approval, and then to the chief medical inspector of the public schools for physical examination. The experts at the University laboratory will then study the children individually.

Through mental tests, such as the "form board" and the "dot tests," through knowledge of the child's family history and mode of life, obtained by a tactful social worker in close touch with the home, and through any other available source of information they will seek to classify the child according to his mental needs and ability.

After having the pupil under direct observation for some time, the psychologist will be able to determine whether he should attend the regular school, receive special training, or be provided for in some other way. The whole purpose is to study the apparently exceptional child for his own welfare and that of the school and community.

ST. COLUMBA'S PARISH REUNION GREAT SUCCESS

REV. JOHN A. DEGAN, Pastor.

Did you hear sounds of merriment along Merrimack street last night? You probably did. Those were the echoes of the music and the laughter that were going on in Associate hall, where the reunion of St. Columba's parish was in progress. Everybody unanimously declares that last night's affair was "one great time." Anyone who attended the party would be too tired to tell you this morning just what happened there; he would only have a hazy recollection of music and dancing, even jokes galore, of a lively two step and a dancing waltz, of an active, happy crowd, and of countless good things to eat. If you happened to question a feminine "anyone" as to what kind of a time she had, she would ignore your question and would proceed to enumerate the daintily embroidered articles that were sold at the novelty table. In addition to pretty fancy work, the novelty table had for sale, a wonderfully nondescript collection that included "strictly fresh" eggs, a noisome pipe, a pair of "kipps" (tan shoes), a ruy ring and many other things of an equally varied nature. Mrs. Hobbie, who had charge of this table, is to be congratulated on her original scheme of catering to everyone's taste, regardless of sex or age.

Long before the formal opening of the reunion, at 8 o'clock, the password was "standing room only." The floor and balconies were thronged with an enthusiastic crowd, and from the old man with long gray whiskers to the diminutive maid with the big red hair atop her golden curls, there was no one in the hall who did not enjoy himself or perhaps more particularly herself.

The "Honey Boy" Minstrels gave an entertainment from 8 to 9 o'clock. William H. Way was musical director and Miss Anna Murphy was the pianist. The program in color who furnished most of the songs were: Charles Sadler, Edward Handley, Joseph Campbell and Cleveland K. Nobles. Edward Murphy was the interpreter.

The program offered by the minstrels was an unusually excellent and varied one, and the different singers won great applause. One of the best numbers was the song by John White, "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold." Cleveland Nobles was one of the most active of the emcees and fairly bubbled over with good spirits as he sang that rollicking rousing piece, "On the Mississippi." Charles Sadler, another "colored person," also made a distinctive hit with the "Ten-

POLICE AND FIREMEN

Would-be Braves Take Examination

Twenty-four applicants for the police department and 13 for the fire department took the civil service examination at city hall today. The examination was conducted by Deputy Inspector Franz Karlsson. One of the 13 applicants for the fire department took the examination for call men and the others for the permanent list.

Other Examination Postponed
Because of some hitch in the posting of notices, the civil service examination for the rank of sergeant has been postponed and Mr. Karlsson said today that he could not tell when the examination would be held. The examination was to have been held today. He could not explain why the notices had not been posted in time to give proper notice to all concerned. Next time, however, the notices will be posted in due season.

DOINGS IN TEWKSBURY

Board of Trade to Have Lectures

There is great activity in the Tewksbury board of trade, and the members are doing their very best to push the matter of a trolley express through the village. A committee was appointed at the last meeting to confer with the officials of the Bay State Street Railway Co. as to the possibility of such a project through the village, and their hopes are that the matter will be brought to a success.

The Noremac Girls of Tewksbury Centre held a meeting at the home of Miss Fannie Murre and enjoyed a quilling party. The product of the meeting, a fine fancy quilt, will be donated to the O'Leary home in this city. Previous to the social hour the election of officers was held for the ensuing year with the following results: President, Miss Fannie Murre; Vice President, Miss Edith Stevens; Secretary, Miss Dorothy Tingley; Corresponding Secretary, Ruth Trevelyan; Treasurer, Miss Fannie Murre. Routine business was transacted and a social hour was spent.

The members of the Ladies Aid society will hold their regular meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Billings. Routine business was transacted and a social hour was spent.

MONEY TRUST COMMITTEE

Final Series of Hearings is On—Early Morning Session Was Postponed Until This Afternoon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Beginning its final series of hearings, the money trust committee today planned to conclude the taking of testimony by the end of this week and to begin the preparation of its report to congress.

Delegates were looking forward to being received at the White House later in the day. The committee had especially interested in the organization for the president is to be the guest of honor at the Chambers banquet tonight with Secretaries Meyer, Stimson, and McLaughlin, Speaker Clark and a number of members of the senate and house.

Demanded by the Down River Cities

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Jan. 22.—The joint committee on the Lawrence and Lowell roads of the Boston and Maine, will be admitted for consideration at the present session of the legislature, the house committee and rules having voted to recommend to the legislature that the rules requiring the matter to be advertised previous to the convening of the legislature be suspended.

Rep. Essex S. Abbott of Haverhill explained to the committee that he desires the matter taken up in connection with a bill which he has filed on his own petition, asking for a re-arrangement of the tracks in the yard outside the North station in Boston. These bills, he said, are supplementary to each other, and should be taken up together.

The bill presented on petition of the boards of trade, he said, requires the railroad company to four-track its system from Boston to Reading. When the committee had taken up the bill, he said, it would be better for him to explain why the rules had not been complied with. Mr. Abbott stated that it was only a short time ago that the two commercial bodies decided to cooperate in the matter, and that when the matter was finally put into shape there was not time to advertise it. Even had he been presented to him in season, he said, he doubted if he would have realized that it came within the rules requiring advertising. He reminded the committee that the boards of trade and land commissioners had on file at the present time extensive dealing with the matter involved in his own petition, and he expressed the belief that very little difference would be made in the length of the session by the admission of the bills.

Banquet and Entertainment
A pleasing banquet took place last night in the vestry of the Lawrence Street P. M. church under the auspices of the Moore Bible class of that church. Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. N. W. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, Jr., and members of the church choir.

INCREASE OF SALARY FOR TEACHERS

Voted by the School Board—Position of Assistant Supervisor of Janitors Abolished

The school board at its regular meeting, last night, voted to increase the salaries of the elementary grade teachers, referring the matter to the finance committee as to the amount of the increase. Other important action on the part of the board included the abolition of the position of assistant supervisor of janitors to take effect Saturday of this week. This position has been held by Peter Bagley. The matter of executive sessions was taken up again and the board voted to adhere to its original action as the charter says that all meetings of the board shall be public. School matrons removed ask reinstatement.

Evening School Rules
The committee on evening schools held a meeting prior to the meeting of the full board and submitted a recommendation which was adopted to the effect that whenever the average attendance in an evening school shall fall below 12, one or more teachers shall be excused, the teacher having had the briefest experience to be the first excused. Also, where the attendance at any school requires less than three teachers, the principal shall teach, and shall be counted as a teacher in computing the average number of teachers for the school. It was so voted.

Matrons Seek Reinstatement
Secretary Molly presented letters from Mrs. Elizabeth A. Strout and Miss Lillian E. Morrison asking to be reinstated as matrons at the Highland and Pawtucketville schools. Mr. Campbell moved that Mrs. Strout be reinstated as matron of the Highland school. He said he knew she had held the place about 12 years, and that last year she was notified by the sub-committee that her services would no longer be required, no reason being given.

NO TRACE OF SCARLET FEVER

Children Suspected of Having Had the Disease Are Said to be in the Pink of Condition

A child died at 132 Gershom avenue a few days ago and scarlet fever was said to be responsible for its death. After having scarlet fever for a few days the child developed cerebro-spinal meningitis and died. The mother of the child told the doctor who attended it when he asked if the child had been exposed, that there were children down stairs who had been sick and whose skin had shown eruptions. The doctor who examined the children down stairs said they did not have scarlet fever. The matter was reported to Mayor O'Donnell and it is reported that the condition as reported be investigated and he appointed Dr. Thomas B. Smith to do the investigating. The name of the family referred to as living "down stairs" is Blazon, and it would seem from Dr. Smith's report that the children are exceptionally healthy and that there is very little evidence of scarlet fever. Dr. Smith's report is as follows:

Lowell, Jan. 21, 1913.
To His Honor, the Mayor,
My Dear Sir:—
The result of the examination of the Blazon family is as reported. The children, 131 Gershom avenue, wife, Moxa Blazon; three children, Leon, four years, George, three, Oliver, two.
At the present time the whole family is in good health, the father being at work. The children appear well nourished and are vigorous and active.
Mrs. Blazon says that in November,

1912, on Thanksgiving day, her husband became sick and was sent for and made a diagnosis of in grippa. Mr. Blazon was in bed three days and at home one week. The doctor made three or four calls. At the same time Leon and George became slightly ill for two days, no definite diagnosis being made. Mrs. Blazon also had a sore throat for one or two days, but did not speak to the doctor about it because it was so slight.

The doctor has not been called to attend the family since January 17th or 18th. The mother met him in the neighborhood and called his attention to the baby's high coloring in a joking way. He answered that it was due to its fine complexion. The children were undressed and carefully examined. Omer—Throat in normal condition—skin smooth—no eruption. George—Throat normal—no eruption—skin smooth. George's throat normal—no eruption—skin smooth, except the soles of the feet, which are slightly red.

George is the only one in which there is any evidence of previous sickness, the exfoliation on the soles of the feet.

This exfoliation is such as appears in a late stage of scarlet fever, but the history as given by the mother gives no evidence of the acute stage of scarlet fever.

The result of the present examination is doubtful as to whether or not any of these children had scarlet fever.

Yours respectfully,
Thomas B. Smith, M. D.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT QUESTIONED

By Counsel for Steel Corporation at Government Investigation Today

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Theodore Roosevelt and William Ellis Corey, former president of the United States Steel Corporation, were the chief witnesses called today to testify at the reconstruction of the government hearings looking to the dissolution of the so-called steel trust. Mr. Roosevelt consented to be examined in his editorial offices. Mr. Corey was summoned to appear before the commissioner in an office building down town.

The oft-repeated story of the absorption by the steel company of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co. provided again to be the nucleus of the ex-president's testimony. How he sanctioned the deal was told by Mr. Roosevelt when he testified before the Stanley committee last year. At that time he said he was satisfied that the steel corporation, in taking over the Tennessee company, was actuated only by a desire to check the panic of 1907. The government contends that officers of the defendant corporation misled him as to the status of affairs.

NEW REPUBLIC OF CHINA

Recognition of Nation Discussed Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Recognition of the new republic of China was a leading topic for discussion when the convention of the chamber of commerce of the United States convened again today. The necessity for taking some official and decisive action toward welcoming the new republic into the family of nations was emphasized and it was decided that, aside from the official question, American trade in the orient might suffer from delay in acknowledging the dawn of a new government era in the ancient celestial empire.

Delegates were looking forward to being received at the White House later in the day. The committee had especially interested in the organization for the president is to be the guest of honor at the Chambers banquet tonight with Secretaries Meyer, Stimson, and McLaughlin, Speaker Clark and a number of members of the senate and house.

He reminded the committee that the boards of trade and land commissioners had on file at the present time extensive dealing with the matter involved in his own petition, and he expressed the belief that very little difference would be made in the length of the session by the admission of the bills.

Banquet and Entertainment
A pleasing banquet took place last night in the vestry of the Lawrence Street P. M. church under the auspices of the Moore Bible class of that church. Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. N. W. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, Jr., and members of the church choir.

At a brief business meeting which followed the feast, the following new officers were chosen: President, Harry Blower; vice-president, Mrs. Robert Catherwood; secretary, E. N. Kimball; financial secretary, Mrs. W. G. Parker; treasurer, Thomas Vennard.

Several of those present delivered brief addresses or fitting topics. There was a contest in answering Bible questions and first prize went to Rev. J. Wilson, while Mrs. John Perry, Jr., was second.

SEN. O'GORMAN REPLIES

To Root's Speech—Opposes Amendment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Advocates of free trade for American ships through the Panama canal have marshaled their forces in the senate to combat favorable action upon the Root amendment providing for repeal of the American exemption provision.

Reply to Senator Root's speech of yesterday was made today by Senator O'Gorman of New York.

Senator O'Gorman began his speech by pointing out that the amendment proposed by the Root amendment either to repeal the free passage clause or to submit the question to arbitration.

"I am opposed to both provisions," said he. "It has been suggested that the legislation passed by the last session was hasty, unadvised and ill-considered. On the contrary, the Panama canal legislation was before the committee many weeks and was discussed at great length in the senate. He said the same objections now made to the Panama canal law were made then but the senate passed the bill at that time by a vote of 45 to 15.

Senator O'Gorman declared that "the great remedy" which the Panama canal bill carried was lost sight of in the demand for its changes. The bill was altered he said, by controlling the trans-continental railroads and preventing a monopoly in transportation.

MAKES GOOD SHOWING
City Solicitor's Department Will Return a Michigan Bank Bill to the General Treasury—H. H. Hurlbut

The city solicitor's office, which comes under the city's department, will return $344,250 to the general treasury out of the law department's appropriation for 1912. This, of course, is a very good showing, and if such a return to the treasury held good in all of the departments it would relieve the rather embarrassing condition existing at the present time. Conditions are more or less responsible for the expenses incurred by the law department. There are a great many things that need to be made up the total expense. The number of cases in which the city is involved, witness fees, etc., have a heavy bearing on the expense of the cases were tried by the city solicitor in 1912. The total appropriation for the year was $437,600.

ACTIVE DEMAND
FOR LEADING STOCKS AT OPENING OF MARKET
Speculators Operated More Confidently
Today in Belief That Weak Spots Had Been Eliminated
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—There was an active demand for the leading stocks at the opening today and prices rose generally. Steel was bought in large amounts and gained 1/2. American Tobacco rose two points and Amal, St. Paul, Reading, Interborough and Am. Electric first a point each.

Speculators developed when the market began to absorb some of the realizing sales which the higher opening brought out. Later the rise was summed up with increased confidence with the demand for the dividend paying stocks broadening.

Speculators on the long side of the market brought some confidence to the day in the belief that the weak spots had been eliminated by recent liquidation. Confidence was strengthened by the fact that yesterday's demonstration against the short interests to bring out a supply of stock awaiting a market. Continued ease of money and favorable conditions in the home and foreign trade situation fostered the development of a more optimistic feeling.

Buying operations were conducted in a large number of stocks with substantial gains in investment as well as speculative issues.

Practical recessions from the best brought back some stocks to about a level with yesterday's closing, including U. S. Reading and Steel.

Standard stocks developed a much less active market later in the day and there was some inquiry also for shares which have recently been under pressure, particularly Rock Island and Erie. Business in the main was extremely quiet at intervals.

SHOUTS OF "TRAITOR"

Were Heard in House of Commons Today

LONDON, Jan. 22.—A small sample of the passions which will be loosed when the house of commons begins Friday the debate on the amendment to the franchise reform bill was given this afternoon during question time, immediately after the session at four o'clock.

Shouts of "traitor," "traitor" were hurled across the floor of the house because Premier Asquith refused to lock up the government "guiltless" and to allow the suffragettes amendments to the bill to be debated without any restrictions as to time.

Many of the legislators exchanged angry gibes and the noisy scene was brought to an end only by the speaker rising and publicly reminding the member who had started the storm. Forecasts vary from hour to hour as to the probable fate of the amendment brought forward by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary which eliminates the word "male" from the first clause of the bill and which, if carried, opens the way to the enactment of an amendment which will enfranchise a numerically varying army of women.

Should the women carry the day the fate of the franchise bill itself might be endangered as a considerable number of liberals have declared that they will vote against the measure of the third reading if it enfranchises women.

SENSELESS ON STREET SOCIETIES WILL PARADE MANY EVENTS TO BE HELD

Mrs. Mansfield Found in Venice

ROME, Jan. 22.—Mrs. William Mansfield, the American woman whose disappearance has caused much anxiety to her friends and occasioned an investigation by the Italian authorities, has been found in Venice, according to a despatch to the Giornale D'Italia.

Mrs. Mansfield arrived in Venice a fortnight ago and took a room at a boarding-house, which she left Monday.

The police came upon her lying unconscious in the street and removed her to a hospital. On regaining consciousness the woman said that she had been overcome by illness and had fainted. She remained in the hospital all night and left this morning.

The police say that she told them she belonged to a wealthy New York family and that the name of her husband, from whom she was separated, was William Mansfield.

Mrs. Mansfield left Sato, on Lake Garda, about two weeks ago after cashing an American check for $60 at a bank. She said she was going to Verona to buy paint brushes, but there is no trace of her having stayed at any hotel in Verona. Apparently she went direct to Venice.

CAT SAVES MASTER

Wakes Providence Newsdealer When Fire Threatens Them, Then Flees to Top of Fence

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 22.—The cat in a newspaper store saved the life of Daney B. Adams, Jr., yesterday. Hearing the cries of his pet and feeling a tug at his bedclothes while he lay asleep in the rear of his business place at 782 Broad street, Adams awoke and found the place in flames. He managed to escape in his night clothes and sound the alarm.

After having awakened his master the cat followed him through the rear door and fled to a nearby fence.

Several Voted to March St. Patrick's Day

The Knights of Equity have decided to turn out and will without doubt present a large delegation in line on March 17th. The Holy Name society of St. John's church, North Chelmsford, has made a similar decision and has reported to the chairman of the committee. It is confidently expected that there will be many out of town companies of the Irish volunteers and in this regard an endeavor is being made to form a provisional regiment. The Irish National Foresters have also been added to the ranks of the societies which have voted to parade and a delegation from Lawrence is expected to augment their ranks.

On Sunday afternoon, there will be a second gathering of the delegates from the various societies to make further plans for the observance of St. Patrick's day and to listen to the reports of the various committees in this regard.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the observance of the coming St. Patrick's day are exerting every effort to make the celebration a record one for Lowell. The main event of course will be the parade, as voted at the recent meeting of the delegates from the Irish Catholic societies in Hibernian hall.

TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Slayer of Wife is Sentenced—Son on Stand

EXETER, N. H., Jan. 22.—George B. Caswell, a Plaistow farmer, was sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife last May.

Caswell's son Bertram, a lad of 13 years, told the court how his father had sent him with a message to his mother, the parents having lived apart, asking for a meeting at the Plaistow cross-roads.

At this meeting Caswell discharged the contents of one barrel of a shotgun into his wife's body with fatal effect and then turned the other barrel on himself.

Caswell was permanently disfigured and barely escaped with his life. In court yesterday he sat with his head swathed in bandages while listening to the testimony of his son.

Lack of premeditation was claimed by Caswell's counsel, who sought sentence for second degree murder, but the arguments of the prosecution that Caswell, in borrowing the shotgun "to kill a horse," had premeditated his act prevailed.

BOLD BOY BANDITS

Admit Taking Railroad Tickets and Money, Then Buying Bank to Hide Property In

CRANSTON, R. I., Jan. 22.—Two boy bandits were captured here yesterday and in the district court pleaded guilty to robbing the railroad station at South Auburn. They were placed under bonds of $1000 each for the grand jury.

They said they were Earl Martin and Albert Oleson, each 14. They had, it is alleged, 427 tickets over the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and money taken from the store of Alexander Josephson in Laursen street.

The boys said that they bought two small banks in which to hoard their money. They took the police officers to the Budlong Rose farm, and there, in an isolated spot near some hothouses, revealed where they had been hiding money and tickets. Martin, however, had his bank with him.

Musterole--Quick Relief No Blister!

MUSTEROLE is clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and the pain is gone!

Millions of people have adopted MUSTEROLE in place of the mustard plaster.

You will find it in large hospitals. Doctors and nurses use MUSTEROLE and recommend it to their patients.

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia). At your druggist's or in 25 and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

Musterole has helped me so much that I can hardly do without it.—Mrs. G. W. Thompson, San Antonio, Texas.

WHIST HELD LAST NIGHT BY MARTHE FAYREAU

Rev. L. C. Bedard, Assistant Pastor, Ably Assisted by Members of the Parish

Rev. L. C. Bedard, assistant pastor of St. Louis' parish, ably assisted by a large number of parishioners is making ing an energetic campaign to wipe out the church debt of $13,500, in order to build a new church in the parish, which is badly needed, as for the past few years services have been held in a wooden chapel which is inadequate for the needs of the parish. A series of whists and entertainments is being organized, and as soon as the scarlet fever epidemic is over, a bazaar will be conducted in the parochial school hall in Bovert street. Inasmuch as the proposed new temple is to cost over $200,000 some work has to be done in order to wipe out the old debt and get a substantial amount to get the building started.

However, Fr. Bedard is not discouraged and feels that the way things are being pushed along, West Centralville will soon have a fine brick or granite structure. For this purpose a number of social events are being organized, among them being the following: Whist by Garda Jacques-Carlter, Feb. 20 at the school hall; whist and concert by members of the church choir on Jan. 22; whist by Mrs. Privo on Jan. 23; whist by Miss Elmina Archelle on Jan. 24; whist by Miss Dupont on Jan. 25; Sunday, Feb. 2, presentation of "Les Boucaniers," a group of amateurs; Monday, Feb. 3, box party; Feb. 11, whist by Mrs. Savard; Feb. 21, entertainment by group of young parishioners. All of these events are to be held at the school hall.

On Jan. 24, Miss B. Destrempe will give a candy party at 94 Alken avenue. On Jan. 26, Miss Alice Bourassa will give a whist, while on Saturday, Feb. 1, a bean supper will be held.

Besides these many events, two contests are now going on, one for a fancy pillow given by Miss Marie S. Mahlot, the contestants being Miss Marthe Favreau and Alice Bourassa. The other is for a solid gold watch and is an original one. There is a ticket for every second for 12 hours, and the same are being sold at five cents apiece. When the tickets are sold the time piece which by the way will cost $100, will be placed in a store window and wound. The watch will run until it stops and if it stops, say at 12 o'clock, 3 minutes and 2 seconds, the holder of this ticket will be given the time piece.

The first whist of the series was given last night in the school hall. The affair was organized by Miss Marthe Favreau and was very successful. The hall was filled and numerous prizes were awarded the winners, while a varied musical program was rendered. Mr. Olier J. David presided over the gathering, and the entertainment program was as follows: Overture, Harp; song, "The Rose Tree," Miss Alice Pratte, accompanied at the piano by Miss Antoinette Pratte; song, "Glow Worm," Paul Lincke, Miss Josephine Charbonneau, accompanist, Miss Annie McKeeher; song, "Zanza Maria," Faure, by Ernest Dupont, accompanist; song, "Benedictine," song, "To Spring," Gounod, by Miss Josephine Charbonneau, accompanist, Miss Annie McKeeher; piano selection by Miss Annie McKeeher and finale by Harmony orchestra.

The young women who assisted Miss Favreau as scorers were as follows: Misses Alice Gratton, Marie Boucher, Evelyn Caron, Alice Jodoin, Alexandrine Ducharme, Clara Caron, Blanche Dalgic and Beatrice Chiquet. The following served as judges in making the awards: Messrs. Armand Thibodeau, Edouard Houle and Henri V. Charbonneau.

TUFTS GIVEN $20,000

Miss Hannah S. Moulton of Kensington, N. H., Leaves Residue of Estate For Scholarship

ENETER, N. H., Jan. 22.—Tufts college is given the residue of the estate of Miss Hannah S. Moulton of Kensington, situated at about $20,000, for the founding of a scholarship under the terms of Miss Moulton's will, filed in the probate court yesterday.

Miss Moulton also gives $5000 in trust to Prof. James A. Tufts, Judge Henry A. Shute and the judge of probate for Rockingham county as a fund for the support of teaching at the University of New England.

To the Kensington Free Public Library is given $1000, the income to be expended in the purchase of books.

ASSAULT ON PRISONER

Charge On Which John Morris Will Be Brought to Court From Deer Island Friday

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—John Morris, a prisoner at Deer Island, will be brought into the East Boston district court on Friday on a writ of habeas corpus in answer to a charge of assault and battery upon another prisoner, John Hendry, who he is alleged to have attacked with a pair of scissors, inflicting an ugly wound, which required the services of the prison physician, Dr. John E. Sullivan. Complaint against Morris was made yesterday by William Hendry, an officer at Deer Island.

TEAM WORK WINS

Bear in mind that of the winner it is always said:---

"The team worked as a unit."

The interests of Massachusetts and of the Boston and Maine Railroad are identical.

The road can only be successful as the business of the State is prosperous, and a united public opinion makes both possible.

GET TOGETHER

In this age of derogation let Massachusetts set a new standard.

WILL YOU DO YOURS?

TO ASK ACTION BY GRAND JURY LOCAL ADVISORY BOARD Is Afraid of Losing Mr. Dooley's Services

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Officials and attorneys of the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union of this city are collecting evidence which they will present to the grand jury action against manufacturers, who, they allege, are violating the laws by discharging employees who unionize, and who are threatening employees who refuse to sign contracts.

Admirals which, according to William Richmond, chairman of the joint board of the different unions, will compel grand jury action, are being collected.

The following copy of a contract, which, according to the attorneys for the union, is illegal, was turned over to the union officials last night as being one that was handed to a workman with the information that he would either sign it or lose his job:

Require $20 Deposit
"I (name of person) deposit $20 with the company as security for the faithful performance by me of the services to be rendered."

"In accepting the same employment I agree that the shop of the company shall be run as an open shop and that I will not take part in any strike."

"I agree that if I leave the employment of the company without 30 days notice in writing that the said money shall belong absolutely to the company to liquidate damages by my breach of agreement."

Many of the persons who received these contracts, according to the union officials, replied that they could not deposit the security, which ranged from $20 to $100 in some cases and these persons were informed by the employers that they could sign the contract and the security would be taken out of their wages at the rate of $2 a week.

To Indorse Wage Scale
Tomorrow night a meeting of the joint board of the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union will be held to indorse a wage scale which has been drawn up. It will then be sent to the International organization for indorsement.

It is believed that the wage scale and other matters included in the demands will be returned to this city by the first of next month with the full indorsement of the International organization.

In less than a week after the indorsement of the wage scale is received, every manufacturer in the city will receive the demands and those who do not grant them, will face a strike.

Last night, when seven organization shop meetings were held, it was estimated by the officers of the union that over 12,000 persons have been enrolled in the union.

Among the demands will be the eight-hour day, the abolishment of the system that allows clothes to be sent out to tenement houses to be finished, and other minor matters that do not suit the workers.

Session Was Very Brief
Only Four Offenders in Police Court

The police court session this morning was exceedingly brief and but four offenders were on hand to explain their respective misdemeanors to Judge Enright and listen to his commentary. Of these, three were members of the society for economy in city water by drinking beer, and the fourth was charged with larceny.

Napoleon Bibeault was given a vacation of fifteen days for trying to measure his capacity for storing firewater. James Mangin received a 10 day retirement from public life and John O'Brien was separated from six dollars.

The charge against John T. Emmett was the larceny of some articles of clothing. Through his counsel, J. J. Hennessy, he pleaded not guilty and the date set for his trial was January 28.

At the meeting of the advisory board of the Industrial school, held yesterday, the following communication was addressed to the school board relative to a reported attempt to get Supt. Dooley of the Industrial school to go to Fall River to open a school there:

To the Members of the Lowell School Board:
Gentlemen—The advisory board of the Lowell Industrial school desires to express its unanimous approval of the efficiency of the Industrial school and to acknowledge its appreciation of the meritorious work of its principal, Mr. William A. Dooley.

The advisory board has sufficient knowledge of an offer made by the city of Fall River for the services of Mr. Dooley to warrant immediate action by your honorable board if Lowell is to retain Mr. Dooley in his present capacity.

The progress of the school since its institution is deserving of special notice; the equipment secured at a minimum of cost to the city, the keen supervision exercised and the apparent good results accruing to the city are matters for which Mr. Dooley is entirely responsible.

The school is now in such process of perfection that any change in its management would decrease its efficiency.

The advisory board at a meeting held today authorized the chairman to forward this communication with the recommendation that your board equal any inducement offered by the city of Fall River for the retention of the services of Mr. Dooley.

Respectfully submitted,
John H. Murphy,
Chairman Advisory Board, Lowell Industrial School.

No action was taken on the communication at last night's meeting of the school board, probably because of the amount of other business to attend to.

LEAGUE GAMES ROLLED DOHAN IS TRAINING HARD

Many Matches on the For Bout on Friday With Alleys Last Night McDonough

The Crescent alleys were busy with several matches last night. Two games in the Barren Bowling League were rolled off. The Calvary Baptist team completely outplayed the team from the First Baptist. The Baptist bowlers took all three strings and the totals, 135 to 125. Myrick of the winners was high man with a total of 285.

The other game in the inter-church league was close and exciting all the way through. In this contest St. Paul's Methodist team defeated that of the First Baptist by the score of 129 to 120, although the winners lost two strings. This match was not decided until the two last men had completed their roll.

The U. S. Machines and the Testers handled off their game last night with the former on the big end of a 1275 to 1217 score. These two teams are members of the Hebe-Catharine League and the tie in percentage was very acceptable to the U. S. Machine team.

The Eldoras were from the Old Sixties in a slow and uninteresting game last night, defeating them by over a hundred pins in the three strings. J. Beauregard of the winners hung up the very good total of 283 for his 30 boxes.

GREAT JOCKEY MAY BE MISSING FROM THE SADDLE NEXT SEASON

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The English turf will be minus the services of one of its greatest jockeys next season. It is said on good authority that Joseph Woolton, who led the list of winning horse pilots for the past three years in this country, has announced that increasing weight will force him to give up riding next season. Woolton is considered one of the greatest jockeys the English turf has ever produced. For the past three years he has been the rival of Danby Maher, the famous American jockey.

CUBS NOW THE "GRABS" BIG ARTHUR PELKEY

Team Dubbed After New Pugilist Is Also a Crack Manager Wrestler

Critics already have dubbed the 1913 Cubs as the "Grabs." President Chas. Webb Murphy admits that he fears for the safety of umpires next year.

Johnny Evers, the Cubs' new manager, years ago was styled the biggest crab in baseball. The Trojan does not deny this—in fact, he has often boasted of it and laughed when he named himself the "human crab."

Otis Clynner, the veteran Minneapolis outfielder, whom Evers considers using in the outer garden, has for years been recognized as a champion crab. They say his groins have won many a game for the Millers.

Eddie McDonald, the new utility player secured from Sacramento, is also an umpire buster. Grabs make wise players, Evers argues. Some say that was one reason why Evers traded Dowley for McDonald.

Miller, outfielder, is also known as a crab. He is a tempered player, and the famous Heinie Zimmerman, by his threats to bite off umpires' ears, won his title as a crab. Truett Evers has promised to control his temper as much as possible, but Murphy is afraid Johnny will forget this promise in the heat of close diamond battles.

Arthur Pelkey, the Chicagoan "hope," who challenged Luther McCarthy, intends to practice as a mat artist as well as a pugilist. Pelkey proved to the entire satisfaction of Rauld du Colours, the big French wrestler, while he was in Canada that he was no novice at the strenuous sport and resisted the latter's best efforts to defeat him by sheer strength and length of reach. Pelkey is a big man and well fitted for the rough mat work.

The powerful heavyweight pugilist is now confident that he can hold his own with most of the second rate wrestlers before the public and is willing to enter the field as a trial horse at any time to prove his ability.

Pelkey will be remembered as the big fellow who presided at the ball at the recent Joe Thomas-Bill McKinnon bout held at the Lowell Social and Athletic Club three weeks ago.

"Waste Ball" Seizes Catchers
The baseball habit of a number of star catchers who have big reputations to sustain of forcing the pitcher to waste balls when men are on bases has about reached its end. It is the notions of major league managers can be taken as an indication.

The first to feel that blow two years ago was Johnny Kling of the Cubs, whose anxiety to prevent Athletic base runners from stealing in the 1910 world's series made him order constant waste balls until he ruined the work of the Cubs' pitching staff. Manager Chance pulled him out before the series was over and that winter disposed of him.

Charley Street, of Washington, who had been following the same practice for some time, was a great catch as a number of base stealers, left the displeasure of Clark Griffith of Washington last spring and has accepted a job of his show. Everybody believed that Street's loss would be felt but it proved that he was not only spending pitchers, but was keeping back the development of the new catchers—Harry Williams and Alvin Smith.

Career of Coach Stage
A. A. Stage, professor of physical culture at the University of Chicago, recently completed 20 years of service for the Maroons. He was one of Yale's famous early day athletes. He passed four years as an undergraduate, one year as a graduate student and one year in the military school. He was a five baseball champion and for the time of his wonderful physical development and on the All-American football eleven of 1889 which was selected by Walter Camp. Chicago has won 147, tied 16 and lost 17 football games under Stage.

BOARD IN DEADLOCK
Fitchburg Aldermen Fail to Elect Assessor—Also in Deadlock Over One Assistant Assessor

FITCHBURG, Jan. 22.—The board of aldermen became deadlocked last night over the election of an assessor for three years, and also over the election of an assistant assessor in Ward 6. Charles H. Morse, who is seeking reelection as an assessor for three years, was opposed by William S. Putnam. The matter of the election of an assessor will undoubtedly be taken up at the next meeting.

Alderman Pierce attempted to defeat John P. Gallagher as assistant assessor in Ward 6, a position he has held for the past seven years, but failed, for only three of the six members voted with him. Alderman McIntire supported Mr. Gallagher, with Aldermen Allen and Moran. Aldermen Grant, Hitchcock and Pierce supported Herbert H. Bolles, which leaves the board in a deadlock. Those who were elected assistant assessors: Fred A. Adler, Arthur M. Belliveau, Sullivan W. Huntley, Hiram C. Hitchcock, F. Darch.

Mayor Hardy reappointed Dr. F. H. Thompson a member of the board of health for three years. He is at present chairman of the board and will undoubtedly be re-elected.

THE LOWELL HIGH BOYS

Have Good Quarters to Practice for Track

Not many people in Lowell realize what an exceptional opportunity the boys in our High school, as well as the coaches who train them, have of making an athletic record for themselves. The High school annex provides one of the finest indoor tracks in the state. The available floor space is only exceeded by two tracks, in the opinion of the writer, those at the Irvington street armory and Mechanics hall, in Boston. With this fact for an asset it is not beyond the realm of possibility to expect a championship team right here in Lowell.

The various private schools which compete with the public schools, especially in big inter-scholastic meets such as that of the Boston Athletic association have gotten the idea firmly fixed in their heads that because they pay more for their education that their athletic ability must be far superior to that of the public school youth. It is sad to relate but the great public school teams are thinking the same way to judge by their performance in competition with the larger schools. This, however, is a proven fallacy.

At the time Andover, Exeter and Worcester academy were supreme in schoolboy athletics Dr. Charles Whalen, an old Dartmouth performer, took charge of track sports at Volkmann school, a small institution with about forty pupils. Volkmann is not a public school but the text will apply equally well for the boys who are ignored in athletics by the "Big Three." Unprovided with the equipment of the larger schools "Charley," in the short space of four years developed a team which proved unbeatable. His team was composed of six men but they were all first-string material.

Herbie Jacques, holder of several Harvard records today, was captain of the team. Reggie Foster, intercollegiate sprint champion and captain of the 1911 Harvard track team, was another member of the Volkmann team. Ernie Nelson, who beat several college champs while in prep was another.

If all this can be brought about under the above conditions shouldn't we be able to expect some such result right here at home with the conditions so much more favorable? With the track squad the size and calibre that it is this year it seems as though we may do more than win the meets held at the annex.

A Word About Cawley
"Ed" Cawley, captain of last season's local high school football team, is a clever athlete. Standing about five feet nine and a half and weighing 165 pounds, his physical development is remarkable for a school boy. Fast on his feet and a quick thinker, he will be an asset to any college eleven. Without belittling the good work of the other members of last season's football team in the annual Lawrence game, it is only fair to say that it was Cawley alone who staved off a defeat for Lowell at the hands of their old rivals, Mr. Horne, principal of the Lawrence High school, when talking to the writer about the game, remarked, "You were mighty lucky that you had that man Cawley this year, otherwise we would have licked you as sure as fate." His wonderful defensive work in the game, which was the only thing that stopped the Lawrence advance on three separate occasions. On the offense he is a first-class line plunger, keeping his feet well and always carrying his head up, rare qualities of prep school players.

"Ed" is also the best man on the high school track team with the 12 pound shot, and is captain of the baseball team, playing the third sack himself. He will go to college next fall, but has not fully decided which one

DEACONS DISTURBED
Bartenders Have Pictures Taken at New Haven Church—Pastor Sorry He Missed Them

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 22.—The New Haven bluebirds are up in arms over what they consider the latest desecration of the historic green. The first act to arouse their ire was the placing of the Pilo Bennett memorial fountain; then followed a series of other annoying incidents.

But the climax was reached Sunday, when the International League of Bartenders, who were having a convention here, had their pictures taken on the steps of Center church, of which Jonathan Edwards was once pastor.

The deacons of the church are much excited and cannot see why the young pastor, Rev. Oscar Maurer, fails to agree with them. Dr. Maurer, who has been here only a short time, says that if he had known the bartenders were coming over he would have opened the church doors for them.

GASOLINE IS GOING UP

New Rise in Price Predicted in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—A rise in the price of gasoline from 17 to 20 cents a gallon is predicted within a short time, according to officers of the Standard Oil company in Boston.

According to garage keepers and owners, this advance will mean a retail price of from 25 to 30 cents a gallon, and those most largely affected will be the users of auto-trucks. It is believed that the climbing price may eventually cause the substitution of electric for gasoline vehicles.

Several plans to evade paying high prices have been taken up in different parts of the country. In New York the garage men planned to buy crude oil from the Pennsylvania fields and refine it themselves, but according to Boston men this would not be feasible.

There is said to be a movement on foot in Gloucester to handle gasoline direct from whaleback steamers. Another plan being used in some cities to lessen the cost, particularly in Providence, is ordering gasoline in tank cars lots from independent companies and sell direct to the consumer.

Notice of the advance has not come from the Standard Oil headquarters as yet, but it is understood that this will be given soon.
